

Fighting Continues In Bolivia

Vice President Blamed For Coup By Deposed Chief

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Gen. Alfredo Obando Candia struggled in conditions of near chaos in this revolt - wracked capital today to form a new Cabinet under military auspices.

Estimates of the casualties in fighting Wednesday rose to 40 dead and 150 injured.

The army Wednesday overthrew President Victor Paz Estenssoro.

Private homes of former government officials were sacked by mobs in the night despite a curfew. Many of the civilian militia armed by the Paz government kept their arms. Other civilians looted government arsenals.

Seven persons were reported killed and 50 injured as air force planes attacked buildings occupied by police and strafed militiamen on a hill near the capital. Students and workers also attacked the buildings held by the police.

Paz, 57, who became president when a popular uprising threw out a military junta in 1952, fled with his family and aides to Peru in a Bolivian military plane.

He told newsmen in Lima his vice president, Air Force Gen. Gene Barrientos, was to blame for the coup.

"He wanted to be president so he rounded up air force and army support and overthrew me," Paz said. "I still have the support of my people."

Paz said the head of Bolivia's new military junta, Gen. Alfredo Obando Candia, "is the best of the lot. He was not mixed up with the others, but Barrientos will doubtless try to become president one way or another."

Obando is commander of Bolivia's armed forces. He told the nation the junta will hold power as briefly as possible and will hold new elections.

Paz served as president until 1956, but the constitution barred his re-election. He was elected again in 1960 and changed the constitution to permit his re-election last May. Opposition parties boycotted the election and charged that the government stuffed the ballot boxes to get the 90 per cent vote which Paz claimed.

Paz also had been beset by deepening economic troubles and militant opposition from the tin miners' union led by his former vice president, leftist Juan Lechin.

Tin miners and students organized antigovernment demonstrations two weeks ago and at least 17 persons died before Paz' military restored control. Paz broke diplomatic relations with Communist Czechoslovakia, claiming its embassy in La Paz helped foment the disturbances.

Mariner 'Up Today'

Aim At Mars 350 Million Miles Away

BULLETIN

A robot explorer named Mariner 3 rocketed away from earth today on the start of an intended 8½-month interplanetary journey to Mars to take pictures and probe scientific secrets.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The United States prepared today to launch Mariner 3, a robot explorer, on an intended 8½-month journey to Mars to take pictures and collect scientific data.

A powerful 10-story-tall Atlas-Agena D rocket was set to blast off between 1:22 p.m. and 3:17 p.m. to start the complex payload across 350 million miles of space for a brief encounter with the planet next July 17.

If successful, the unmanned U.S. spacecraft will sweep within 8,600 miles of Mars and provide the first closeup information ever obtained about the planet. Many astronomers believe Mars harbors a basic form of life, such as vegetation.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Mariner (Please turn to page 8 column 8)

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP)—Tom Dyer, former University of Missouri student, will become the state's youngest public office holder in the state next January.

The 21-year-old Democrat was elected as Saline County public administrator Tuesday. Dyer, now an assistant to Prosecuting Attorney Darold W. Jenkins, served as student manager of the University's football squad for three years.

Reds Reject Flight Plans To Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Union said today its representatives in the Berlin air safety center would not accept any flight plans on Western "international" flights to this isolated city.

In a statement, published by the official East German news agency ADN, the Russians said they could therefore not be held responsible for the safety of Western planes flying to and from West Berlin on international routes.

ADN said the statement came from the Soviet representative in the Berlin air safety center. It singled out specifically the direct London-Berlin flight inaugurated last Sunday by a British European Airways.

The statement said such BEA daily flights were violating the air space over East Germany unless they were registered with the East German authorities. The East Germans protested the establishment of this route but the first flight into Berlin and subsequent flights were made without incidents.

Reds Keynote Unity

Outline World Meeting Theme

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China arrived today for secret talks with other foreign Communist leaders and the new Soviet leadership after three years of bitter division between Peking and Moscow.

Poles, Yugoslavs and East Germans were among others who flew in for Kremlin meetings and the celebration Saturday of the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The Kremlin appealed for an end to "nationalist narrow-mindedness and discrimination in world Communist ranks."

The appeal published in Pravda, the organ of the Soviet Communist party, was clearly intended to serve as the keynote for the first big gathering of Communist rulers since Nikita Khrushchev's downfall last month.

"The Communist party of the Soviet Union calls for an implacable struggle against the appearance and survivals of any kind of nationalism and chauvinism and against tendencies toward national narrow-mindedness and discrimination," Pravda's editorial said.

In their bitter feud with the Chinese during Khrushchev's time, the Soviets accused the Chinese of fomenting a schism in the Communist world with nationalist, chauvinist policies. The charge has been indirectly aimed at some East European Communists, most notably the Romanians.

The Chinese premier headed a seven-man delegation to the celebration Saturday commemorating the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

It will be the first high-level meeting between the Soviet and Chinese Communists since peace talks between the two parties broke down in Moscow in July 1963. After that the conflict between the two nations sharpened and split the world Communist movement.

The removal of Khrushchev had raised the possibility of a surface reconciliation. The former Soviet leader was a personal target for much of Peking's bitterness.

Chou was accompanied by Vice Premier Ho Lung, a member of the Chinese party's policy-making Politburo; Kang Sheng, an alternate member of the Politburo; Wu Hsiu-Chuan and Vice Foreign Minister Liu Hsiao, both members of the Chinese party's Central Committee, and Vice Foreign Minister Chiao Kuang-hua. They were being joined in Moscow by Pan Tzu-li, China's ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Senate Pair 1st Brothers In 161 Years

BOSTON (AP)—For two hours the U.S. Senate's first brothers team in 161 years swapped quips and digs at a hospital bedside.

It was the day after election, and U.S. Sen-elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., hustled to New England Baptist Hospital Wednesday to exchange congratulations with his younger brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Bobby emphasized he was only visiting Boston, a joking reference to campaign charges he was a carthumper in New York.

Ted, who scored a lopsided election victory for a six-year term in the Senate, kidded Bobby about his smaller margin in the New York election.

Their meeting was loud and full of laughs. Bobby brought along his wife, Ethel, and Ted's wife, Joan, completed the quartet.

Reporters waiting outside the room had trouble distinguishing which brother was talking. One newsman explained, "They both sound so much the same, it's impossible to tell."

Warrensburg Man Draws 2-Year Term

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP)—A 54-year-old Warrensburg man pleaded guilty to manslaughter Wednesday in connection with the fatal shooting of a farmer near here.

William Christopher Collins was sentenced to serve two years in prison. Delbert Robert Rauch was killed on his farm March 21, 1962.

Prosecuting attorney David J. Dixon told the court that two of the state's chief witnesses had died since the slaying.

Two Europe Jaunts For George Ball

Foreign Policy Moves Mapped Out By Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, one of President Johnson's top diplomatic troubleshooters, will make two trips to Europe within the next four weeks—to confer with leaders on the growing crisis in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The State Department press officer disclosed in response to inquiries about Ball's plans:

1. He will attend the fourth German-American conference which meets in Berlin Nov. 12-15. This conference will discuss Atlantic alliance problems.

2. Ball will attend a Cabinet-level meeting of the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development in Paris Dec. 2-3. The OECD is composed of industrial countries and works on problems of assistance to underdeveloped nations.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said, in response to questions, that Ball has "no present plans" to meet with French President Charles de Gaulle, whose independent course within NATO and in Western Europe is at the center of the present crisis of unity.

Today's disclosures are the Johnson administration's initial post-election approach to coming to grips with the NATO dissension even while a global policy review gets under way here.

There has been speculation that President Johnson might send Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey to Europe on a troubleshooting trip but a State Department spokesman said he had "no information that would substantiate the reports."

Other consultations on the organization of NATO and its proposed nuclear weapons force will be conducted by Secretary of State Dean Rusk when he meets with Western European foreign ministers in New York in connection with the Dec. 1 opening of the U.N. General Assembly.

In mid-December, Rusk will head the U.S. delegation to a scheduled meeting of the NATO Council in Paris.

Bobby Baker Hearing Set In December

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bobby Baker hearings that Republicans tried in vain to force before last Tuesday's election are now planned for the first week in December.

Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority, will be among the witnesses called to testify about an alleged $35,000 kick-back on the District of Columbia Stadium project by Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor and former ambassador to Ireland.

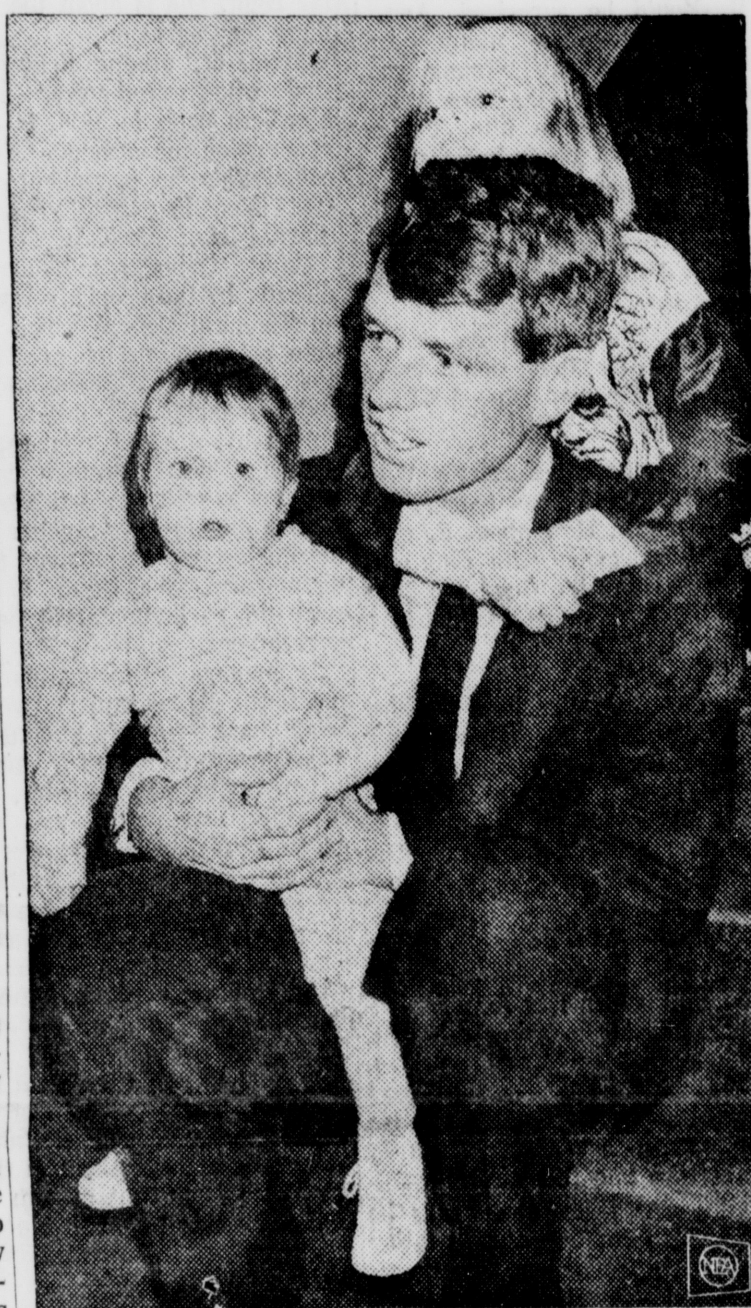

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., charged in a Sept. 1 Senate speech that $25,000 of this was channeled into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund through Baker.

A closed session of the Senate Rules Committee has been called for Dec. 1 by Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., to map plans for the inquiry. Jordan hopes to start public hearings later that day or the next, an aide said today.

Jordan and his wife were sailing from New York today for Europe and will not return until Nov. 22. The senator is to be a delegate to the interparliamentary union meeting opening in Paris on Nov. 16.

Urge Rescue of Poor

Catholic Appeal In Poverty War

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Prelates at the Vatican Ecumenical Council — and a layman from America — appealed today for the Roman Catholic Church to take action to fight world poverty and hunger.

The appeals included proposals for Church-organized agencies working with laymen and national governments to help rescue the poor of all races and religions from misery and neglect.

The council fathers in St. Peter's discussed the issue of poverty and hunger in their debate on modern world problems.

Joseph Cardinal Frings of Cologne, Germany, recommended that episcopal conferences around the world organize their own international relief agencies, supported by contributions of the faithful. These agencies would be designed to set up schools in developing nations to teach necessary skills to enable the people to help themselves.

Other prelates also advocated aid for the world's developing countries, and one layman was given a rare opportunity to address the council. He is James J. Norris, president of the International Catholic Migration Commission, with headquarters in Geneva.

Norris, a lay auditor at the council and the third one to address the assembly since it started in 1962, reviewed the sufferings and ills caused by poverty in the world.

"A loving human family does not permit its members to suffer in this way. From this Ecumenical Council could come a clarion call for action which would involve the creation of a structure that would devise the kind of institutions, forms of cooperation and policy, which the Church can adopt to secure full Catholic participation in the worldwide attack of poverty," he told the council.

Will Study Urban Problems In Hawaii

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven members of a House subcommittee on housing left today for a two-week study of housing and urban problems in Hawaii.

The group, a subcommittee of the House Banking Committee, is headed by Rep. William A. Barrett, D-Pa.

Barrett said it is the first opportunity to investigate the special problems of the island state, which differ from the needs of mainland communities.

The committee flying to Hawaii includes Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo.

Takes 40 Per Cent of Democratic Vote

Romney Steps Into GOP Spotlight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Gov. George Romney emerged today as the strong man at the ballot box of a Republican party shattered by President Johnson's towering presidential election victory.

In the almost incredible vote avalanche in which Johnson registered strongly in nearly every precinct outside five Southern states and Arizona, Romney won re-election by cutting deep into Democratic Detroit, upping his previous support in Negro districts and winning 40 per cent backing from those who voted for the Democratic President.

Defeated GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater has said he does not intend to yield the reins of the Republican party. But he conceded that he thinks the GOP will pick "another man to run" in 1968 "and as of now that would be fine with me."

It would require considerable reorientation for Goldwater to gravitate to the support of Romney for this somewhat politically dubious honor four years hence. The Arizona senator said during the campaign he could understand why some "moderate" Republicans didn't support him. But he listed Romney as an unfathomable "Mormon preacher."

Romney, who wouldn't back Goldwater actively because of the latter's vote against the Civil Rights Act, already was on the offensive. His state's GOP national committeeman, John Martin, called for the dumping of Goldwater's personally selected chairman of the Republican National Committee, Dean Burch.

Burch, clinging to his $30,000-a-year job, found some "ouraging" signs in a debacle in which Goldwater won six states and 52 electoral votes to Johnson's 44 states and overwhelming 486 Electoral College ballots.

The GOP national chairman said the election had established a "true two-party system in the South"—which the Democrats debated hotly; had won more than 26 million voters to "the conservative philosophy" and had ended the campaign "financially sound and strong."

Johnson, with more than 41 million votes from 98 per cent of the nation's polling places, was playing the part of the magnanimous winner. He had rolled up about 61.4 per cent of the total vote.

At his ranch near Johnson City, Tex., the President and his wife welcomed Sen. Hubert H.

Humphrey of Minnesota, the vice president-elect and his wife for a brief visit before the Humphreys set off on a vacation trip to the Virgin Islands.

Johnson's observation on the election results was: "I doubt that there ever has been so many things alike on Election Day."

Humphrey said the Johnson landslide "means good, strong leadership for the nation" that "is good for the world." Congratulatory messages poured in to the winners from all over the globe, including a pledge from the Soviet Union's new leaders to seek accommodation by negotiation.

Although Goldwater said he doesn't believe the conservative cause was hurt by the election results, there was plenty of dissent among fellow Republicans.

Moderates of the party looked to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to provide some help for them in what could become a lengthy battle to attempt to dislodge the conservative Burch and other Goldwater supporters who filled nearly every national party office.

Ann Landers

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am just an average man. My wife doesn't keep running home to her mother. My father-in-law doesn't mooch cigarettes or try to borrow money from me. My daughter isn't mixed up with a dope addict, and my son isn't in trouble for stealing cars.

I have a healthy bank account, no debts, a cozy apartment, a paid-for convertible and I'm not on tranquilizers or booze. This year I went to Europe for three weeks. Last year I went to South America. Next year I'm going to the Orient.

How does it happen that I have it so good? The answer is simple. I never married. Why not pass on this formula to your readers? — SINGLE AND WORRY-FREE.

Dear Single: So you never married? Big deal. If your father had followed your formula where would you be?

Bachelorhood is no guarantee against being broke, nervous, unhappy or alcoholic. Just look around, Buster.

Marriage is NOT for everyone, and those who spurn it in favor of traveling solo are neither to be congratulated nor criticized. The singletons miss a lot of grief, but they miss a great many joys, too.

Having chosen one road, one never knows what the other road would have been like. And perhaps it's just as well.

Dear Ann Landers: Please print my letter. Every postman's wife will be grateful.

My husband believes in giving the people on his route deluxe service. When a letter arrives with postage due, he pays for it out of his own pocket. This could amount to any amount from 1c to 3c on a letter. It is not unusual for my husband to lay out $2 in one day. He then leaves a note and hopes he will get the money back.

You'd be surprised, Ann, if you knew how many people don't even say "Thank you," much less pay the letter carrier what they owe him. Perhaps these folks don't know that if the postman weren't a good Joe he could take the postage due letter back to the post office and they'd have to come down and get it.

Am I too harsh on people? Can it be they don't know? Thanks for your help.—LETTER CARRIER'S WIFE.

Dear Letter Carrier's Wife: If they didn't know before, they know now. How about it, girls, are you square with your postman? Or is the Good Joe stuck because he saved you a trip to the post office?

Dear Ann: I've been working in this plant for almost three years. Six girls have gotten married right under my nose but nothing exciting ever happens to me. Maybe I'm not pushy enough. Please give me some help.

About three months ago a very nice young man was transferred here as supervisor for our section. He is clean-cut, pleasant, mannerly and just my type. During working hours he pays quite a lot of attention to me but when 5 o'clock comes he vanishes into thin air.

For the last three weeks he has been coming by my station after his lunch hour and he always brings me a sack of peanuts. Do you think this means anything? How can I get him to ask me for a date? I'd hate to spoil things by rushing him, but maybe I ought to do something. If so, what?—TORCHY.

Dear Torch: I knew a man once who bought a sack of peanuts every day for the monkeys in the zoo. So far as I know he never asked any of them out.

Apparently this fellow is the shy type and needs a little encouragement. Invite a few couples to your place for supper or Sunday brunch and include "Peanuts." If he has any in-

Pakistanis In Middle Of Election

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — At a village railroad station in the rice country of East Pakistan, a slender, silver-haired woman stood in the doorway of her coach and smiled at the crowd screaming: "Long live the mother of the nation!"

In a desert town 1,200 miles away in West Pakistan, a tall, ruggedly handsome man strode to the microphone and raised his hands to quiet the cheering throng gathered to hear him speak.

These two, both popular, are Fatima Jinnah and President Mohammed Ayub Khan, and one of them will be elected president of this nation of 100 million for the next five years.

The election, starting this month, is the first on a national scale since this Moslem nation became independent in 1947.

Miss Jinnah, wispy 71-year-old sister of Pakistan's founder, the late Mohammed Ali Jinnah, is the presidential candidate of the combined opposition, five parties ranging from far left to far right. She is about the only thing they agree on.

Ayub, 61, urbane field marshal who seized power in a bloodless coup in 1958, is running under the strong-president constitution he promulgated in 1962 in ending four years of martial law.

Basic Democrats, chosen directly by the people, compose an Electoral College which will vote next March for president and members of the National and Provincial assemblies.

Actually, the election represents a contest between rival systems as well as candidates. Miss Jinnah says Ayub's authoritarian regime amounts to a dictatorship. She wants to restore the parliamentary type of government.

Ayub says restoring parliamentary government would bring back the pre-1958 days when governments fell frequently, corruption was rampant, the economy was adrift and the people sank deeper into poverty. Ayub has restored political order in the country and made an impressive start on the awesome task of economic development. But per capita income is about $73 a year, among the lowest in the world.

Ayub is expected to defeat his opponent, mainly because of his greater strength in West Pakistan. Some experts also feel that the Basic Democrat system he initiated tends to favor the incumbent.

Charges IRS Men Tapped Phone Lines

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Government agents acknowledged they kept track of all the letters addressed to a police colonel in Kansas City while they were working on a tax evasion case against him.

They denied charges that his telephones were tapped and his mail tampered with.

The dispute developed in federal court Wednesday as Col. William M. Canaday sought a ruling which would prevent the government from using some of the evidence it wishes to present at his trial. He was suspended as the police department's chief of operations after a grand jury indicted him in March on charges of evading about $5,000 in taxes on his income in the four years from 1957 through 1960.

Judge Floyd R. Gibson did not rule immediately on Canaday's motion to suppress the evidence. Canaday testified he once read to his wife over the telephone a letter he had written to a superior asking for a transfer. He had not delivered the letter, Canaday said, but within 15 minutes he was called before a grand jury and questioned about it.

After the Internal Revenue Service started investigating him, he said, telephone repairmen visited his office at police headquarters almost every day for a month although he was having no trouble with his service. He said the IRS could not have learned about some of his expenses unless it had been tapping his lines.

Canaday also testified his mail was delayed and some of it appeared to have been tampered with. On cross-examination, Canaday acknowledged he never found any taps on his telephones.

Everett W. Trost, an internal revenue agent, testified its investigators did not use taps on Canaday's telephones.

He said a "cover" was put on

Phebean Class Gives Party For Retarded

A Halloween party was given Oct. 30 for retarded young people at the Training Center for Retarded Children, sponsored by the Phebean Class of the young adult Sunday school department of East Sedalia Baptist Church, under the direction of Mrs. Byron Pilcher.

Hostesses were Mrs. Peggy Curran, Mrs. Betty Williams, Mrs. Marlene Brady and Mrs. Leona Worley.

The center was decorated with witches, black cats and jack 'o lanterns.

Cookies and punch were served after games were played. Favors were small orange jack 'o lanterns, filled with candy.

Attending were: Barbara Benz, Ann Hutchinson, Virginia Abelson, Elmer Walker, Mike Wilson, James Norton, Gary Marcum, Woodrow Garrison and Glenn Cromley.

Canaday's mail for several weeks, as he recalled, but it was of no value.

Postal officials explained a "mail cover." They try to intercept and list all mail addressed to a person. They record the information on the postmark and the return address. They said they do not open the mail nor delay it.

TV Set Use Has Grown During Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The average television set — and there are now almost 62 million of them in almost 52 million American homes — was in use for 5 hours and 36 minutes a day during the two-week period ending Oct. 11, according to the latest Nielsen estimate. A year ago the estimate for the same period was 5 hours and 6 minutes.

That statistic pretty well demolishes the frequently expressed opinion — maybe it is just a wan hope — that the vast audience after all these years is finally becoming more selective about its viewing. It looks as if we are watching it more, even if we do hear more complaints about enjoying it less.

As far as our favorite viewing hours are concerned, the Nielsen figures indicate that between 6 and 7 p.m. some 41 per cent of our sets are turned on. Between 7 and 8, it climbs to 54 per cent and moves up to around 64 per cent during the next two hours. Then it drops off sharply to 52 per cent from 10 to 11.

It looks as if one of the season's first casualties will be NBC's "Bill Dana Show," which probably will disappear from NBC's Sunday night lineup some time in December. Another — and a big one — in trouble is "90 Bristol Court," the economy-size package of three situation comedies under one title.

Replacement for the latter is likely to be an hour Western which will put Chuck Connors back in a 10-gallon hat and blue jeans, plus a half-hour comedy.

State Aid, Ease On Bonds Sought By Teachers Group

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Missouri State Teachers Association asked the state to increase its financial aid to the public schools and ease the restrictions on issuing bonds and raising taxes for its school purposes.

The pleas were addressed to the Missouri General Assembly

by the 1,200-member delegate assembly of the teachers association. The delegates represent about 40,000 members.

About 19,000 of them are expected in Kansas City today and Friday for their annual meeting. The delegate assembly met Wednesday.

One of its resolutions asked the state to provide school money at least proportional to Missouri's relative financial position in the nation.

The state provides about $142 per pupil each year. The average for all the states is $194. Advocates of the resolution argued Missouri ranks 12th in the nation in per capita income but 36th in per capita expenditures for schools. The average salary for Missouri's school personnel, they said, is $5,800 a year; and this is $538 below the national average.

For many years, the teachers' association has advocated relaxation of the constitutional requirement that proposals for school district bond issues must be passed by a two-thirds majority. This year, for the first time, the association advocated the requirement be reduced to a simple majority.

The advocates said 35 school bond issues were rejected in Missouri from April 1, 1963, to April 1, 1964, and 24 of them received simple majorities.

The resolution on tax levies also involves a constitutional change. A simple majority of voters in a school district may now approve a levy up to $3 on each $100 of assessed valuation. A levy higher than $3 must receive a two-thirds majority. The teachers' association urged this figure be raised to $4.50. The advocates said 70 districts in the state must vote levies higher than $3. Most of them are in St. Louis and Kansas City suburban areas.

Report LBJ Will Visit Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Sydney afternoon newspapers said today President Johnson probably would visit Australia next year.

The Sun reported from Canberra, the Australian capital, the visit probably would be between March and May and that the President almost certainly would bring his wife and daughters.

There was no confirmation in Canberra of this. Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies issued an invitation to Johnson when he visited Washington last June. Menzies said later the President had agreed in principle to visit Australia.

Absentees Are Key In Alaska Contest

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Absentee ballots apparently hold the key to the winner of Alaska's lone seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

With 320 of the state's 356 precincts reported Wednesday night, Democratic incumbent Ralph J. Rivers led Republican Lowell Thomas Jr., 30,466 to 29,991. About 4,500 absentee ballots will be counted next week.

Thomas, son of the explorer and news commentator, is making his second attempt to unseat Rivers, who has represented Alaska since statehood in 1959.

Major Ground Thrust

Invade Mythical 'Oroland'

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP)—"Joint Task Force Sioux" invaded the mythical land of "Oroland" in the Missouri Ozarks Wednesday in the first major ground thrust of a 16-day military exercise designed to test some new techniques in brush warfare.

Motorized infantry penetrated the "Oroland" border near Lebanon, Mo., and moved a two-pronged attack across country—almost unchallenged for the first few hours.

"Joint Task Force Ozark," the defenders of Oroland, was caught with its planes down and the umpires counted six destroyed on the ground, six downed in aerial combat and some others lost to ground-to-air missiles. The Sioux casualties were not fully assessed, but they lost one plane in air-to-air combat.

The Sioux attack planes hit several Ozark air bases, forcing the defenders to move one of them. Big C130 transports picked up the stores and equipment ferried them to the new locations at Little Rock AFB, Memphis Naval Air Station; Blytheville, Ark., AFB, and Scott AFB, Ill.

The 16-day exercise of the U.S. Strike Command is called Gold Fire I, and its script makes "Oroland" a small nation which has called upon the United States for help when it is threatened by invasion from "Argentina." Task Force Ozark, including 4,000 men of the 1st Infantry Division from Ft. Riley, Kan., flown in by transport, is being supplied entirely by air. The Tactical Air Command, the Military Air Transport Command and even the Navy and the Marine Corps are participating.

The invasion came on the seventh day, after a week of ferrying in and deploying men and equipment. The umpires ruled few personnel casualties but crossed off a lot of equipment.

The exercise continues through Nov. 13.

Home State Challenge For Romney

DETROIT (AP) — While talk of the 1968 presidential nomination and Republican rebuilding flutters around Michigan Gov. George Romney, he faces a home-state challenge that could make or break his national future before he even considers it.

Romney won overwhelming re-election Tuesday despite a Michigan landslide for President Johnson and found himself at the fore of GOP survivors.

He also found himself confronted with a state legislature of nearly two-thirds Democrats in each house — a jarring shift from the Republican majorities of Romney's first term.

The silver-haired former American Motors Corp. president said the Republican party must "broaden and unify." At the same time, Romney seemingly must broaden and unify his own administration program even beyond party bounds to have a chance for a successful second-term record.

He said he would work on a bipartisan basis and hoped for reciprocity. The beaten Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Neil Staebler, talked of cooperation.

The governor insisted that he has not considered seeking the 1968 nomination. He said a draft was "a very presumptuous thing to discuss."

In regard to national party rebuilding, he told a news conference Wednesday that he "can't see that I have any significant individual responsibility nationally."

"I do recognize that with others throughout the nation I can make contributions to broaden and unify the party nationally."

Practically speaking, Romney, 57, will have to decide what to do in 1966 before looking beyond. He could seek another term as governor—one of four years under a new constitutional provision—or he might try for Democratic Sen. Patrick McNamara's seat.

His success with the legislature could affect this choice.

Romney said he is not ready to read Goldwater or any of the senator's aides out of the Republican organization because "you don't broaden the party by kicking people out." Romney withheld endorsement from Goldwater during the campaign.

Barry Jokes Wryly In Buying Painting

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater dashed off a wry family joke Wednesday about his loss to President Johnson.

Goldwater drove to Scottsdale, near his home, to buy some paintings. One was a Mark Coomer painting of a clown weeping.

He bought it for his daughter

New Dental Degree Name Into Effect

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The School of Dental Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania has changed the name of the traditional D.D.S. — Doctor of Dental Surgery — degree given its graduates.

From now on, Dean Lester W. Burket said Wednesday, they will receive a Doctor of Dental Medicine degree or D. M. D. for the Latin version — Dentariae Medicinae Doctor.

Dentists today, he said, no longer are limited to drilling, filling and pulling teeth, but are increasingly skilled in "basic science and total patient care."

Wind Up Huddle At LBJ Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and Hubert H. Humphrey, his vice president-to-be, hit it off in fine fashion as they wound up a Texas hill country huddle today. Lounging around the LBJ Ranch 15 miles west of this hamlet founded by the President's grandfather, the nation's two top Democrats celebrated Tuesday's landslide victory.

They looked much like peas in a pod as they hiked around the 400 presidential acres and rode horses in Western garb.

Humphrey, a one-time druggist, looked anything but that as he moseyed around the ranch on a horse which, from all appearances, was tame and well behaved.

The President greeted Humphrey and wife Muriel with an elaborate Texas barbecue Wednesday.

Hardly had the Minnesotan landed on the LBJ property when he was clapped into Western pants, Western jacket, Western boots and Western hat and, with a mite of encouragement, enticed to climb aboard the horse.

All this coincided with the barbecue served buffet-style at folding tables set up in a metal hangar, painted brass green, beside the taxi strip at the Johnson City municipal airport — the ranch runway.

Afterwards, Johnson took Humphrey in tow for a tour of his birthplace, reconstructed on the property, and other landmarks which he delights in showing to visitors.

Both were in a holiday mood and obviously enjoying their visit.

Privately, they talked about the future of the vice presidency — an office often scorned — and looked ahead to the legislative program the Johnson-Humphrey administration will offer to the nation in January.

Humphrey was scheduled to fly to Washington late today. The Johnsons plan to spend several more days at their ranch.

Peggy, saying she likes clowns. He put this card with it: "I voted for Barry."

Goldwater Plans Move To Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, determined to keep the Republican party on a conservative course, heads back to Washington Friday to handle some of the leftover business of the Senate seat he gave up for his losing race against President Johnson.

For the moment Goldwater's long-range future remained obscure. But the beaten Republican nominee has served notice he plans to spend a lot of time working to lead and strengthen the GOP.

In the days ahead Goldwater plans to take care of some Senate mail and some other matters in Washington, then head for a vacation with his wife at an undisclosed spot.

While more liberal members of the party made plans to rebuild the GOP in their image, Goldwater declared: "I don't think we can build a Republican party on their concepts which, in my opinion, have no difference at all with the Democratic concept."

At a concession news conference Wednesday, Goldwater said he does not think the conservative cause "has been hurt at all," despite his landslide loss.

Conservatism, he insisted, is a philosophy the Republican party "must cling to and strengthen in the years ahead."

Goldwater said he does not expect to be the nominee again in 1968, declaring his role "would be better played" in building Republican organization and raising party funds.

That is the job he did before he rose to top the Republican ticket.

Goldwater had no specific plans to offer on the shape of his drive to rebuild the beaten GOP.

The senator plans to move to Phoenix eventually but said he will keep his apartment in Washington.

"I am not seeking employment there," he added.

His old Washington job went to Arizona Gov. Paul Fannin, elected to fill the Senate seat Goldwater has held for 12 years.

Goldwater withdrew from that race when he won the Republican nomination.

Democrats Sweep Clean In 5 States

NEW YORK (AP) — Democrats ousted Republicans from control of both houses of the legislatures in five states, took over one house in five more states, and scored gains in a dozen others.

The GOP picked up a few legislative seats in several states, notably California.

The big Democratic victories Tuesday were in New York, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa and Utah.

The Democrats took over one house in Colorado, Wisconsin, Montana, Wyoming and North Dakota.

New York — Democrats won the Senate 34-24 and the Assembly 88-62, to get control of both houses for the first time in 30 years. The GOP leaders of both houses were defeated in their districts. With present Republican margins of 33-25 and 85-65, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is expected to call a quick special session to reapportion the districts before the Democrats take over.

Michigan — Latest returns gave the Democrats margins of 72-38 in the House and 23-15 in the Senate, reversing the GOP majorities of 58-52 and 21-11. The Democratic sweep followed a reapportionment, but Democratic leaders have promised an effort at harmony with GOP Gov. George Romney.

Indiana — Democrats won both houses for the first time since 1936, taking the House 77-23 and the Senate 35-15. The GOP margins had been 56-44 and 25-24 with one vacancy due to death.

Iowa — The Democrats won both houses for the first time in 30 years, taking the Senate 35-24 and the House 124-101. The GOP controls the present legislature, elected before a reapportionment, by 38-12 in the Senate and 79-29 in the House. The reapportionment added seats.

Utah — The Senate will be Democratic 15-12 and the House 39-30, reversing GOP margins of 13-12 and 34-30 in the 1963 legislature. A reapportionment added seats.

Colorado — The Democrats captured the House 42-23, reversing a 41-24 GOP majority, but the Republicans gained one in the Senate to boost their margin to 21-14. Officials of both parties said the GOP would have lost more except for the recent redistricting which it controlled.

Wisconsin — Democrats won the Assembly 52-48 and picked up two Senate seats to trim the GOP majority to 20-13. The Assembly had been 54-46 Republican.

Montana — The Democrats won control of the House for the first time since 1959, and retained control of the Senate for the third straight biennial session. Latest figures show Democratic margins of 31-24, one seat undetermined, in the Senate, and 54-28 in the House, two undetermined.

Wyoming — Democrats took the House 33-28, but the Republicans held a 13-12 margin in the Senate. The GOP had both houses 37-19 and 16-11 before reapportionment. The Democrats won every seat added by the 1963 redistricting.

North Dakota — Democrats won the reapportioned House 64-45 and picked up eight Senate seats to cut the GOP margin in the upper house to 29-20. The GOP had controlled the House 70-43.

California — The Democrats held their 27-13 majority in the Senate but will lose three or four of their 52-38 Assembly majority. The GOP Assembly gain is important because it takes two-thirds to pass a budget and some tax bills in California.

Republicans Score One Governorship

WASHINGTON (AP) — About the only solace Republicans could find in Tuesday's election returns was in the 25 governorship races. There they had a net gain of one.

Particularly satisfying to the Republicans was the defeat of two Democratic governors seeking re-election, Albert Rosellini of Washington and John W. Reynolds of Wisconsin. Rosellini ran for a third term, Reynolds a second.

In addition, the Republicans took over the Massachusetts state house when former Gov. John A. Volpe staged a political comeback to defeat Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti.

Democrats, in turn, won in Arizona and Utah, where the state houses had been in Republican control.

The 17 governorships won by the Democrats Tuesday gave them a total of 33 since they had 16 holdovers. The Republicans won eight of the races. They had nine holdovers, making their total 17. The pre-election lineup was 34 to 16.

Since all the races except for Arizona were in states carried by President Johnson over Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican victors in the races for governor displayed good tide-bucking ability.

Nowhere was this more clearly demonstrated than in Michigan where George Romney, who had refused to endorse Goldwater, easily defeated Rep. Neil Staebler, former Democratic national committeeman.

Utah elected a Democratic governor for the first time in 16 years when Calvin L. Rampton, Salt Lake City attorney, won over Mitchell Melich, former state legislator.

Victors included Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, close political associate of President Johnson, and losers Richard Kleindienst, who is close to Goldwater, in Arizona.

While Goldwater carried his home state of Arizona, Kleindienst lost to Democrat Sam Goddard, Tucson attorney.

In Arkansas, Republican Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, gave Gov. Orval E. Faubus something of a scare. In the end Faubus pulled through by a substantial margin to win an unprecedented sixth two-year term.

The other unseated Democratic governor, Rosellini in Washington, lost to Daniel Jackson Evans, a state legislator.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a University of Chicago National Opinion Research Center survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without use of will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Thanks to this tablet, 88,648 heavy smokers have already stopped smoking.

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 393-Z-1, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

Altrusas Hear Mrs. C. Yates Talk On Votes

"Women in Politics and Does Your Vote Count?" was the subject of Mrs. Carl Yates, who addressed Altrusa Club luncheon meeting Nov. 2 at Hotel Bothwell.

Mrs. Yates, public affairs chairman, gave data on political rights of women in various parts of the world. In San Marino, the world's smallest republic, she said, women may vote but cannot run for public office. In Sudan, women may be elected, but cannot vote.

In the 107 countries which are members of the United Nations, or UN specialized agencies, women may vote in all elections and are eligible for election on an equal basis with men. In Guatemala, women may vote and are eligible for election, provided they pass a literacy test not required of men.

Mrs. Yates explained Portuguese women are subject to educational requirements not imposed on men, and, after fulfilling the same tax qualifications as men, must be heads of families to vote. Syrian women can vote if they meet educational requirements, which are not required for men voters.

Swiss women, Mrs. Yates informed the group, cannot vote or be elected in federal elections. They can vote only in state elections in Geneva, Neuchatel Vaud, and they can vote and run for office in some municipalities. In some countries, women cannot vote at all.

Mrs. Yates stressed that each vote counts, citing several elections, including recent ones, which were decided by hairline vote margins.

Mrs. Mabel Chambers, president, introduced Mrs. H. Johnston, guest of Mrs. Gus Williams.

Altrusa voted to participate in the Tree of Lights program, sponsored by the Salvation Army. The group will tend the tree from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Dec. 6.

Mrs. Shirley Wagner will be hostess Nov. 16.

Appreciation Week Plans By Optimists

Plans for "Youth Appreciation Week" which will be observed Nov. 9-15, were announced by Gerald Cecil, chairman, at the meeting of the Optimist Club Tuesday noon, at Bothwell Hotel.

This is the week set aside by Optimist International, he said, to pay tribute to youth of America. He stated that some 30 youngsters, one representative from each of the various phases of youth activities in the community, will be guests at the Sedalia Optimist Club next week, and that there will also be a speaker. Posters will be placed in business places, he said.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Clinton Black, with invocation by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman. Gerald Cecil led the singing with Mrs. Lillian Maynard at the piano.

The club voted to work at the Salvation Army tree of lights one day and also enter the Thanksgiving bowling contest at Broadway Lanes on Thanksgiving Day, the proceeds from which will go to the Children's Therapy Center.

The selling of Christmas trees again this year as the project of the club was discussed.

Dr. Russell Drenon stated that there will be only two more weeks of soccer and the club discussed the presentation of awards to be made at a meeting of the Optimist Club.

Soccer is one of the things sponsored by the Optimist Club.

A report on the progress of the club was given by the secretary-treasurer Fred Arbogast.

Hand Tools Big Need In Yule Drive

Rev. F. C. Laudick spoke at the meeting of the Sacred Heart Altar Society's November meeting on the Thanksgiving clothing drive which is annually conducted by all the Catholic bishops in the United States to secure relief supplies for the coming year for needy people all over the world.

The special appeal this year, he said, in addition to all kinds of usable clothing, shoes and bedding, is for hand tools, such as usable hammers, saws, and other similar types, to enable poverty stricken people to help themselves. He urged volunteers to come sometime during the week of Nov. 15-21 to help with the packing which this year will be done in the former classroom adjoining the cafeteria. The general chairman is Miss Mary Helen Mayer.

The Thanksgiving clothing drive, according to the official report of the Catholic Relief Services, in the 1963 collection had over 15 million pounds of relief material donated by Catholics which was valued at 21 million dollars.

Sacred Heart parish contributed a record amount of four tons of clothing last year to the drive which was packed into boxes by volunteers from the Altar Society and Home and School Association. It was banded with steel strips by men from the Holy Name Society for trucking to St. Louis for transfer to the National Catholic Welfare Conference's main warehouse in New York.

A nominating committee was appointed by the president, Mrs. Henry Salveter, with Mrs. Catherine LaVelle, chairman, to prepare a slate of officers for the Altar Society to be voted on at the December meeting.

Reports were given by Mrs. Salveter on the attendance and proceedings of the Deanery Council of Catholic Women at Pilot Grove on Oct. 11, and on the return from the banquet for the teachers of the Pettis-Benton County Association and dinner honoring the committee workers of a Pettis County political organization. Plans were also made for a banquet to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Daughters of Isabella.

Announcement was made of the Home and School Association's Book Fair to be held at Sacred Heart School Nov. 16, 17, and the meeting night, Nov. 18, which is for all to view.

Mrs. William Eschbacher, vice - president and program chairman, introduced Mrs. Ted Gardner, who presented the program on "The History of Making Hats," which she said has been called the oldest of status symbols. A wide range of hats made in the speaker's hat class were displayed.

Opal O'Briant Tells Xi Betas About Kitchens

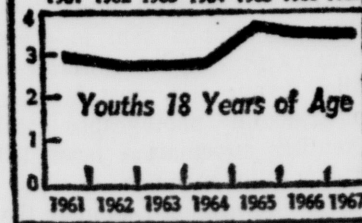

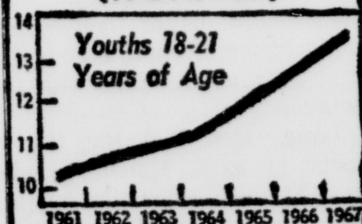

Miss Opal O'Briant, Pettis County Extension Home Economist, spoke on "Planning the Kitchen" at the Oct. 26th meeting of Xi Beta Upsilon Chapter, Beta Sigma Sorority, at the home of Mary Alice Flores. The speaker was introduced by Mick Joy, program chairman.

Slides, showing kitchen types and designs, were shown by Miss O'Briant. She told how to arrange the kitchen to save time and steps.

At the business meeting led by Dorothy Nickols, members decided to enter a float in the Christmas parade. Articles for the fund raising Christmas project were distributed.

Refreshments were served by Dorothy Huffman, co-hostess.

Democratic Victory Aid To Two Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The widened Democratic margin in Congress could brighten chances for two key Johnson administration proposals — health care for the elderly and aid to the depressed Appalachian region.

The White House is certain to read the landslide victory of President Johnson as a mandate to push harder for both measures, sidetracked in the last session.

Final returns indicate a net gain of two Senate seats for the Democrats and — more significantly — about 40 House seats.

In the 88th Congress, the Democratic Senate edge of 66 to 34 already was so big that the majority party could push through even its most controversial programs.

The proposal to provide medical care for older Americans by boosting Social Security taxes cleared the Senate by five votes.

The $1-billion Appalachian aid bill was approved by a wide margin.

But the health plan was rejected in a conference with the House and House leaders decided against bringing up the Appalachian legislation, a sure sign that they feared defeat despite a 257-178 margin.

The new congressional lineup encouraged Democrats to believe they could put through these long-disputed measures:

- Creation of a Cabinet department of urban affairs or, as it has been called more recently, a department of housing and community development.
- Revision of the immigration laws to knock out the long-standing national origins quota system.
- Extension of the wages and hours act to include some types of service workers long excluded.
- Establishment of some form of national standards for the unemployment compensation system.

Democratic liberals say also it now should be easier to get Congress to vote the needed funds for such programs as vocational education, mass transit, manpower retraining and depressed areas.

Many Democrats are eager to vote on a Social Security bill since enactment of that law is a major step toward a commitment in the 1964 session by both branches of Congress for an increase in their payments.

The House voted a 5 per cent raise, the Senate a $7 increase in basic payments. The measure went down the drain in the dispute over the health-care plan.

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department reports it received about 50 election complaints during Tuesday's voting.

A department spokesman said most were minor.

A department spokesman Wednesday called this a relatively small number, which he attributed to advance public notice by U.S. attorneys across the nation that they were standing by to handle quickly any trouble that occurred.

The complaints came from 26 states — not identified — and included broken voting machines, reported threats against poll watchers and attempts to slow down voting by Negroes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin discussed with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Wednesday the possibility of an international conference on Cambodia and its border problems.

Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey noted that Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk had proposed a conference month ago. The proposition has been discussed by interested governments from time to time since, the press officer said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of State Thomas C. Mann says it is necessary "to sacrifice short-term political advantages and personal gain" in order to lay "solid and enduring foundations" for the Alliance for Progress.

Mann, who is U.S. coordinator of the U.S.-supported program for Latin America, said in a speech Wednesday that there is a great temptation to look for quick answers in seeking to speed social reform in Central and South America.

Significance To Meeting Of Red Brass

MOSCOW (AP) — A new phase of great importance to the rest of the world may be opening in Soviet-Chinese relations.

Moscow and Peking have quit saying nasty things to each other. Premier Chou En-lai is leading a high-powered Chinese team to Saturday's Revolution Day celebration in Moscow.

But the Kremlin remains on "the road to doom," Peking's definition of the Soviet course toward a world Communist meeting. And national interests of the two big Communist powers remain different.

There is no sign of the radical thinking that would be necessary for a change in the Soviet or Chinese outlook toward other countries.

There is, however, a possibility of agreement to handle Soviet-Chinese differences in a more comradely fashion than was done when Nikita Khrushchev led the Soviet Union. His ouster Oct. 14 by less excitable men created the possibility.

The new Soviet leaders have indicated they intend to go ahead with Khrushchev's plans for a meeting to prepare for a world Communist conference, and then to hold the conference. But they are silent on his timetable, Dec. 15 and mid-1965.

The new Soviet leadership has gone out of its way to proclaim a desire for improved, peaceful relations with the West. Such relations are a natural development of the drive to better economic conditions at home and to avoid mutually destructive nuclear war.

Better relations also mean avoiding head-on collisions in the underdeveloped world.

China has a different outlook. Its attitude toward the West remains hostile, its internal situation is economically difficult, its policy is one of stirring up trouble in the underdeveloped world.

Damaged were the left rear fender of the Ream car and the left front fender and headlight rim of the Reine car.

Dale Casto, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Casto, 2420 Poplar Place, sustained a minor injury in a brush with a car on Country Club Blvd. near his home about 11:15 a.m. Thursday. He was examined at the office of Dr. Stanley Fisher and found to have only a bruised right knee.

Police were able to receive only sketchy information concerning the accident and the name of the motorist was not available. Officers, however, did not report the mishap as a hit-and-run as they were informed the driver told another youth he would return to talk to the Casto youngster's parents.

Murphy First Actor Into High Office

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — By bucking the Democratic tide to win Pierre Salinger's U.S. Senate seat, George Murphy has provided a happy climax to a career as unlikely as some of his roles on the late, late show.

Murphy, who danced duets with Fred Astaire and played papa to Shirley Temple and Elizabeth Taylor, is the first movie actor to achieve so high a national office.

He didn't attempt to downplay his image as a good-guy song-and-dance man. In fact, says he: "It did me plenty of good. People remembered me from the late, late show. Don't forget, I was always the good guy."

But Republican George's solid victory over Democrat Pierre in a race rated a toss-up indicates voters didn't accept the image at face value. Murphy is a successful business executive and veteran behind-the-scenes political figure.

He ran a smooth, relentless campaign, based on advice from his father, Mike Murphy, who trained early Olympic teams. The elder Murphy's counsel: "Get off first, run a fast race, and never look behind."

George was born on Independence Day, 1902, in New Haven, Conn. As a youth he strove to follow his father's footsteps as a track star. In one dual meet at the Pawling School in Pawling, N.Y., he won the 100-yard dash, 220, 440, mile, broad jump and high hurdles.

At Pawling, he first realized his ability to command an audience by winning an award for an address on Theodore Roosevelt. He went on to Yale, class of 1925, but dropped out after three years.

While working as a Wall Street runner, Murphy met Julie Henkel, a Detroit girl who was taking dancing lessons in New York. She induced him to come along and they were soon dancing in supper clubs for $100 a week.

They were married Dec. 28, 1926.

The Murphys danced in Broadway shows and then he went on as a single in "Of Thee I Sing" and in "Roberta" with two other newcomers, Bob Hope and Fred MacMurray.

Samuel Goldwyn brought him to Hollywood as juvenile lead in "Kid Millions" with Eddie Cantor.

During the '30s and '40s Murphy was a leading man in such films as "You're a Sweetheart," "Broadway Melody of 1938" and "Tom, Dick and Harry."

When his acting career began to wane — he maintains he was blacklisted by liberal producers for his Republican activities — he turned to public affairs, staging shindigs for the Dwight D. Eisenhower campaign.

Murphy then turned to business as executive with Desilu Studios and Technicolor.

The Murphys have two children, Missy, a 21-year-old University of Colorado coed, and Dennis, 26, and just out of the Marines. Both campaigned strenuously for their father.

Total Voter Turnout Falls Far Below Predicted Number

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still incomplete returns from Tuesday's election indicate that the total voter turnout fell far short of the predicted 71.1 million but probably topped the 1960 total.

With 173,152 of 175,756 polling units counted, President Johnson had 42,038,243 votes to 26,449,960 for Sen. Barry Goldwater, a two-party total of 68,488,203.

In 1960, the total of presidential votes for all candidates — Democrat John F. Kennedy, Republican Richard M. Nixon and minor parties — plus those cast for unpledged presidential electors in Louisiana and Mississippi totaled 68,832,778.

The 2,604 precincts still unreported come mostly from sparsely settled areas, which probably have about 200 votes each.

This would mean the present totals will be swelled by about half a million votes from these 2,604 precincts, plus the minor party vote estimated at about 200,000 based on the 1960 totals.

Union Savings Motor Bank To Open

The Union Savings Garden Motor Bank, on South Ohio, will open Monday, Nov. 9, according to Herbert W. Mason, president. Of Arkansas stone in which is blended pink, buff and white, the bank has two drive-in windows, one on the south and one on the north. At the front, on Ohio, is the walk-up window.

There are two long planters on the south side, one along Ohio and the other along the alley. Made of the same type stone as the building they are 14 by four feet. These will be filled with evergreens and during the spring and summer months flowers will be added to give it color. On the north side along the wall of the bank building proper is another planter of the stone, and stone is also used on the wall. Since this is beneath the cover over the north drive artificial flowers will be used.

The drive-in entrances may be made from the south on Ohio through the alley or from Lamine through the alley circling to the north window and those coming from the north entering the driveway to the south window.

The motor bank interior is accessible only through a tunnel from the basement of the bank proper. The inside is paneled and the windows are standard drive-in type of steel with bullet proof glass. There is an intercom system with the bank, and each window has a communications system. The front window has a let down shelf for the convenience of the customers and there is also a place to make pen and ink available.

It is heated by water which is piped in from the basement of the main bank. It is also air conditioned.

Servicing the windows in the motor bank will be Mrs. Peggy Moore and Mrs. Sharon Bybee. The new drive-in will have an electrical sign, Union Savings Garden Motor Bank, with the "Garden" in green and the rest in black lettering.

Carrollton Livestock Auction Opening Near

The Carrollton Livestock Auction, Carrollton, will have its grand opening in its new location, Thursday, Nov. 12. The new sale pavilion, of all steel construction, is located immediately south of Carrollton on Highway 65. The business is operated by Ted Lock and Ollie McCombs.

Situated on 13 acres of ground, the building was constructed after the F. M. Stamper Company purchased the old location for further expansion. Special cattle sales are held Thursday and special hog sales are held Tuesday. There is ample pen area for 2,000 head of cattle. The pens have all concrete floors.

iner 3 will not be able to detect life but is to gather information needed to design life-seeking capsules which the United States hopes to land on Mars in 1969.

Because Mars is in a favorable position for a launching from earth only one month out of each 25 and because of the importance of collecting information about the planet for future shots, the space agency scheduled two identical payloads for firing in the present November favorable period.

Mariner 4 is being readied on an adjoining launch pad. Its firing date, possibly as early as next week, will be determined after analysis of early results from Mariner 3.

Mariner project manager Jack N. James of NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said there was a better than 50 per cent chance of obtaining significant data about Mars with the twin shots.

James said that the 138,000 parts in each Mariner would have to function for nine months in space; the craft must obey radio commands sent to them from earth stations, millions of miles away; and must be able to transmit photographs and scientific information from 150 million miles in space.

Key information sought is the density of the Martian atmosphere. Mariner 3 is supposed to collect it during a swift 60-second penetration of that atmosphere before skimming past the planet into orbit about the sun.

Mariner 3's television camera was designed to snap 22 pictures during a 30-minute period of near encounter. The spacecraft is equipped with magnetic tape to store the pictures to be transmitted to earth one or two times each during a 10 to 20-day period after the vehicle has passed Mars. Because of the extreme communication distance, nearly nine hours would be required to transmit one picture.

Cuban Exiles Pledge Return When Cuban Dictator Falls

By ROBERT D. CLARK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "Volveremos" is the militant slogan of thousands of refugees who pine for Cuba without Fidel Castro.

The Spanish word means simply "We will return." Exiles shout "Volveremos!" at anti-Castro rallies. They paste it on windows of their American cars and apartments.

"We will go back when Castro falls," 270,000 exiles tell each other as they get jobs, start businesses, learn English, wed and buy homes in their land of refuge.

Mrs. Ellis Garrett and Mrs. Charles Rages gave a home management lesson for Striped College Homemakers Club Oct. 28 at the home of Mrs. E. E. Shirley. Mrs. Garrett was assistant hostess.

Quilts were delivered to Buena Vista home.

To the meeting were brought storage cans for PTA and plastic seat covers for Goodwill Chapel.

The club voted to buy ribbons for the local 4-H achievement program.

Dorothy Iuchs reported on the club's recent tour of Holiday Inn, Kim Originals and McLaughlin Brothers Furniture store.

Mrs. Fred Staley, president, thanked the club for flowers sent her while she was hospitalized.

Fourteen members answered roll call with "something New in my Home in 1964."

The Nov. 17 all day meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lester Patrick. Silent auction will be held and a creative art lesson will be given.

Killed On Bicycle

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) Ronald L. Horan, 7, was killed Wednesday when his bicycle collided with a pickup truck in Independence.

The truck driver, Rudy L. Dostal, 31, told police the boy rode the bike into the path of his truck.

But Castro already has weathered nearly six turbulent years in power.

The Cuban Economists Association in Exile feels that the return of the majority of the refugees will be delayed, at best.

The association recently interviewed exiles in the United States, host to most; Latin America and Spain.

Dr. Jose Alvarez Diaz, association president and former Cuban treasury minister, reported these conclusions:

"About 90 per cent want to return to their homeland."

But from the survey "We reach the conclusion that only 30 per cent of them would go immediately upon Castro's overthrow regardless of the situation inside Cuba. Forty per cent would return when there was evidence of political stability and economic prospects. Another 20 per cent would go back only when they could obtain in Cuba an income similar to what they are getting now."

"Ten per cent, with residence now in this and other countries, would not return."

Exiled Cuban Supreme Court Justice Francisco Alabau Trelles said he believed that neither marriage, jobs, property ownership nor other state developments would deter more than 10 per cent of the refugees from going back to Cuba if they could. And he said the remaining tenth probably would drift back gradually.

Like many of their compatriots, Alvarez Diaz and Alabau Trelles reject the idea that Castro can last. Both agreed, however, that even if Fidel were whisked from the scene tomorrow, returning exiles would have to cope with economic and political chaos in rebuilding their country.

What do rank-and-file refugees see ahead for themselves in relation to Cuba?

Three who were queried have been through the exile mill before. Andres Ramon Fernandez Diaz, 49, a diesel mechanic; Mario Massip, 45, a labor union official; and Manuel Gonzales Ramos, 42, a bus driver, fled into Miami exile from the Fulgencio Batista regime in the 1950s. All hustled happily back to Cuba on Castro's takeover, and all trekked back to Miami disillusioned with Castro.

"When Castro falls I hope to be there," Fernandez Diaz said.

GOOD AS GOLD—To ride a customized motorcycle (even if it isn't going anywhere) is a big thrill for some persons, yet Sue Petersen of Glenview, Ill., got an even bigger thrill. She had an opportunity to ride a bike which is made entirely of chrome and gold. The bike is valued at $3,500 and was exhibited at a Chicago custom car show.

"I want to help in the reconstruction of my country."

Massip said, "When Fidel goes down, I hope to be in Cuba and be one of the Cubans who overthrow him."

Gonzales Ramos recalled, "When Batista was overthrown I took all my money, about $3,- 000 saved while working in New York, to start a new life in Cuba."

"I lost it all. Castro's government took it. Now I have learned enough English to get along, and I will wait to see what happens before I go back to Cuba again."

Rep. Hall Appears Sure of Re-election

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Rep. Durward G. Hall, 7th District Republican, appeared assured of re-election Wednesday night.

With all but two of the districts 539 precincts reported, Hall of Springfield led Democrat James A. Thomas of Joplin 96,104 to 90,447.

About 10,000 absentee ballots still remained to be counted throughout the normally Republican district.

Visitors Had Edge

Smith-Cotton Bengals Tie Game 20-20 With Cards

The Smith-Cotton Tigers, Wednesday night, came through with a tie game, 20-20, with St. Joseph Benton High School Cardinals on the Jennie Jaynes gridiron. The game on paper gave a slight edge to the visitors who had upset several teams in Northwest Missouri, this season, but their driving power withered in mid-Missouri as the Tigers battled to the tie game.

The Cardinals shook the Tigers on the first play of the game. Smith-Cotton lost the toss and had to kick-off. Con Rees booted the ball down to Bill Britton on the Cardinal 19 and he smashed right up the center, crossed over to his left and went 81 yards for the touchdown. Jim Adams kicked the ball for the extra point, and St. Joe, it appeared, was on their way.

The first quarter concluded with the ball in the Cardinals' possession on their own 46 and they led the Tigers 7-0. Just before the quarter had concluded, however, the visitors were to the Sedalia 35, but lost 18 yards when Dennis Willis was trapped back of his line and kept drifting backward.

The St. Joseph boys had to punt and the Tigers worked it to Benton's 37 yard line. Murray fumbled the ball and it was recovered by Dennis Wineinger and went to his 49 yard line.

Two rushing plays put the ball down into Sedalia's territory and a 43-yard-pass from the Cardinals 14-year-old sophomore quarterback to Ron Hodges put the ball on Sedalia's 2. Brown hit the line for the score and Adams' kick was no good.

On the kickoff Tony Murray picked it up on the 19 and handed off to John Johnson who went the route down field for the touchdown aided by a beautiful block on Sam Church which took him out of the play. Steve Young, Tiger left end, provided the block. Con Rees kicked the goal, making it St. Joe 13, Sedalia 7.

Smith-Cotton kicked off and St. Joseph took over on their 21-yard line and put on a 79 yard drive on four first downs, with Brown hitting the line for one

Stomper, Geigle Drop Tag Event

The team-tag event on the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion wrestling card went to The Lawman and Don Jardine over The Stomper and Bob Geigle, Wednesday night. It was a rough and tumble event between the four big heavyweights.

Stomper took the first fall in seven minutes and 20 seconds with the Lawman coming back to win the second fall by pinning the Stomper in eight minutes and 15 seconds. Stomper used a series of knee drops and press, while The Lawman followed through with a series of drop kicks and press.

The final fall was won by Jardine over Geigle in four minutes and 40 seconds using the cow-boy head drop and press. Sailor Art Thomas had a rough evening with Tiny Mills, but came out the winner in the final fall. Mills took the opener with knee drops and press after 10 minutes and 35 seconds. Thomas came back to grab off the second fall with a reverse headlock in three minutes and 10 seconds, and the final fall in six minutes and 18 seconds applying his famous bear hug.

In the first "warm-up" event The Stomper and Jardine clashed in a one-fall 15-minute time limit match. Stomper took it in nine minutes with a throat chop and press.

The second "warm-up" match a one-fall 15-minute time limit affair between The Lawman and Geigle went 11 minutes and 40 seconds with Geigle winning with a series of knee drops and press.

The matches will revert back to Tuesday nights on Nov. 17.

Mauch Named NL Manager Of The Year

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Philadelphia Phillies Manager Gene Mauch was playing golf Wednesday when he learned he had been named National League Manager of the Year for 1964 in the annual Associated Press poll.

"I don't know whether it affected my golf game or not," Mauch said today. "I don't remember how well I played after I found out."

It was the second time in three years the honor was bestowed on the handsome 38-year-old scrapper, who makes his home in nearby Hacienda Heights. He indicated, however, that the title meant more to him the first time he won it, in 1962. "The circumstances are quite different this time," he said.

Among the circumstances this year: "With only two weeks left to play, his Phillies had what appeared to be an insurmountable 6½-game lead."

—But they dropped 10 games in a row from Sept. 21 through Sept. 30, then rebounded to win the final two from Cincinnati to finish in a second-place tie with the Reds—one game behind St. Louis. It was the highest finish by Philadelphia since they won the pennant in 1950 under Eddie Sawyer.

Runner-up in the poll was Johnny Keane of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals.

yard and a score. Adams kicked the goal to give them 20 points.

The half time score gave St. Joseph Benton 20 points and Smith-Cotton 7.

St. Joseph kicked off to open the second half and the Tigers took charge on their own 50 yard line after Russ Cusick had taken the kick on his own 20 and moved to the mid-field stripe. In spite of a 16-yard penalty the Tigers picked up seven on the ground and 33 through the air, a pass from John Johnson to Cusick, for the first down. Tony Murray moved 15 yards for another first and the ball was down on the six-yard-line three plays later. John went shoving through the center of the line for the score. Rees made his kick good and the score was now Cardinals 20, Tigers 14.

On the Tiger kickoff, the Cardinals took the ball on their 11-yard line and fumbled, with Joe Lamy making the recovery on the 11-yard line. Tony Murray made two tries, a four and finally a six-yard drive for the touchdown. The visitors were able to break through and block Rees' kick and the score was tied up 20-20, at the end of the third period.

In the last part of the fourth quarter the Tigers were held and the visitors took over on their own 12, but were forced to punt and the locals gained the ball back on the visitors' 49 with less than two minutes left. The drive carried the ball to the tight-yard line when St. Joseph's boys in red held the boys in black and gold to four downs.

The Tigers' chances ended after a pass was incomplete and a second pass was good for 12 yards as the clock ran out of time.

Bob Thompson of the Cardinals and Jim Johnson were ordered from the game for unsportsmanlike conduct in the second quarter shortly before the end of the first quarter.

Ron Hodges drew the wrath of the officials in next to the last play of the game when he took a swing, in fact struck Cusick and he was ordered out of the game.

Arguments On Braves' Shift Begin

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Oral arguments were set to begin today in a U.S. District Court hearing sought by the Braves in an apparent move to speed their shift to Atlanta for the 1965 season.

The Braves said Wednesday they were dropping four clubs from their farm system — Denver of the Pacific Coast League, Toronto of the International League, Austin of the Texas League and Greenville, S.C., of the Western Carolinas circuit.

They retained two other minor league clubs, Yakima, Wash., of the Northwest League and Binghamton of the New York-Pennsylvania League.

The announcement added the Braves would definitely have a Triple A team somewhere next year. The Denver, Toronto and Atlanta franchises are all in Triple A leagues. The Braves own the players on the Denver roster.

Milwaukee Sentinel baseball writer Red Thisted said in a story for today's editions that he had learned the Braves were considering purchase of the Atlanta franchise.

If the Braves are unable to move to Atlanta, Thisted said, the purchase of the International League franchise would serve a two-fold purpose — continued development of the players and a chance for Atlanta fans to see some of the youngsters who will eventually wear Braves uniforms.

The Braves have drafted major league rights to Atlanta and if they lose their court fight would be free to move there after their rental contract for County Stadium expires on Dec. 31, 1965.

The court fight centers on efforts by Milwaukee County to force the Braves to meet requirements of the contract, which requires the Braves to play all of their 1965 home games in County Stadium.

The county obtained in a state circuit court a temporary order restraining the Braves from moving or from asking other National League owners for the needed approval of the shift.

Twilley Top Receiver On College Grid

TULSA, Okla. — A little guy that nobody wanted is college football's top pass catcher and scorer this year who believes he's going to set a national record.

He is Howard Twilley, 180 pounds of competitive drive bundled into a 5-foot-10 package. He's one reason Tulsa University is the country's top passing team and Hurricane quarterback Jerry Rhome is the nation's leading passer.

"He was a little fellow everybody else passed up," Tulsa Coach Glenn Dobbs said. "I had to be sold on him."

Twilley played for Galen Park, Tex., High School and wanted to go to nearby University of Houston. But nobody was interested.

"They didn't think I was big enough to go to the University of Houston," Twilley said. At 159 pounds, he admitted, "I wasn't exactly a blue-chip prospect."

Houston may have regretted its decision Oct. 10. Twilley caught six passes for 72 yards and one touchdown and scored five extra points as Tulsa whipped Houston 31-23.

Coming to Tulsa—which took him in Houston—"is about the greatest thing that ever happened to me," Twilley said.

He broke into the line-up last year as a linebacker. He switched to offense after John Simmons, Tulsa's top receiver, was hurt—and his defensive days are over.

But Dobbs says Twilley could be one of the top defensive players in this part of the country if he weren't so valuable as a receiver.

With four games left to play, Twilley needs 14 receptions to break the season record of 70 set by Larry Elkins of Baylor last year and another 292 yards would break the mark of 1,007 yards gained by Vern Burke of Oregon State in 1962.

He also leads national scoring with 68 points on eight touchdowns and 20 extra points—both catching and kicking—and could become the first end ever to top point-makers.

Spiz Club Entertains At Halftime

The halftime period of the Smith-Cotton and St. Joseph Benton football game, Wednesday night, saw entertainment of the Spiz Club drill team followed by plays displayed by the Seventh, Eighth grade teams.

The Spiz drill team under the direction of Mrs. Richard Cooper performed with a variety of pinwheel formations. Thirty-two Spiz members with Joan Gibbs, team captain, went through the formations with ease.

Following the drills, the Pep Club Smith-Cotton majorettes, Janice Walker, Pam Price and Joyce Edwards, went through a routine with fire batons, accompanied by the Smith-Cotton high school band under the direction of Mrs. Carl G. Schrader.

The Seventh and Eighth grade football players — Tigers of the future then gave an exhibition of contact football, going through their plays with the showing of up-and-coming football players.

The White team was composed of the following Seventh graders: Bill Dougherty, Dan Van Dyne, Charles Snyder, Terry Hudson, Fred Branson, Bill Parker, Guy Pirtle, Dennis Hagen, Jim Arnold, Milton Kitchen, Dennis Johnson, Robert Geotz, Gale Jennings, Nick Franklin, Ricky Fitzwilliams, Ricky Thompson, Bill Fingland, Gerry Gerkin, Dean Hopkins, Patrick Long, Maurice Pitts, Spud Pratt, Steve Gray, David Knight, and Carl Reque. These boys were dressed in white uniforms.

The Gold team (Eighth Graders) were Kent Cordry, Tommy Riedsorph, Rick Chrisman, Marcus Ketch, David Weaver, Eddie Woolery, John Talbott, Martin Baker, John Carier, John Rissler, John Joy, Scott Schumaker and Terry Reid.

The Black Team (Eighth Graders) were Mike Carroll, Glen Lane, Con Chapman, Steve Cain, Randy Green, Robbie Owens, Robert Cruise, Randy Nelson, Keith Cooper, Don Crank, Wade McClary and Roger Carter.

No score was kept, but the boys pitted against each other provided some right tough football plays for the fans.

Hope Wilt Will Weld Warriors Into Winners

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Towering Wilt Chamberlain is a 48-minute man again and San Francisco Warrior Coach Alex Hannum is hoping the big center can weld the Warriors back into a winning club again.

Chamberlain, who missed the Warriors' first five National Basketball Association games because of an inflammation of the pancreas, played the entire game Wednesday night.

But the Warriors lost 105-104 to the St. Louis Hawks.

In the only other game played, the Baltimore Bullets whipped the Pistons 121-108 in Detroit.

"Who ever would have thought we would be 1-6 at this point?" Hannum commented after the Hawks' win over San Francisco.

Wilt, who was visibly weak last week when he returned to the court after more than a month's absence, demonstrated his old style again. He said he was not "particularly tired" after the game.

He contributed 37 points.

Milt Plum Pleased With Player Rating

DETROIT (AP) — Milt Plum, a man of few words, was pleased at being named Player of the Week in the National Football League. "It's always great to see an honor such as that," said the Detroit Lions' quarterback.

For Plum, who is quiet and reserved, this seemed a good deal to say at one time.

The 29-year-old veteran signal-caller and passer received the Associated Press' weekly star citation for his handling of the Lions in their 37-17 victory over the Los Angeles Rams last Sunday.

Plum, despite an injury to his right elbow, threw three touchdowns passes and had 13 other completions in 24 attempts for 347 yards.

A Split End Out of Haynes

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Stram decided to make a split end out of Abner Haynes during the training season. The powerful running back who was the American Football League's Player of the Year as a rookie in 1960 took it all in stride. It didn't last long.

With their return of Chris Burford, Haynes moved back to his old familiar left halfback job and started to tear up the turf. The former North Texas State College athlete had one of his big days Sunday in Kansas City's 49-39 victory over Denver. It was enough to give him The Associated Press' choice as Player of the Week in the AFL. Haynes had his part in building up a comfortable 42-10 lead but the Chiefs almost blew the ball game in the final period. After Denver came back with 29 points in 5 1/2 minutes and closed the game to 42-39. Haynes took matters into his own hands.

In the final touchdown drive, Haynes handled the ball eight straight times either as a runner or pass catcher. Naturally, it was Haynes running the final seven for the decisive TD.

The statistics show that Haynes ran nine times for 91 yards, caught five passes for 106 yards and ran back kickoffs for a total of 64 yards.

Grid Giants May Lose Pass Catcher For Rest of Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Del Shofner, star pass catcher of the New York Giants, may be lost to the National Football League club for the rest of the season because of stomach ulcers.

Shofner sat out last Sunday's St. Louis game with a liver virus and severe cold. He entered St. Elizabeth's Hospital Sunday night for rest and examination. Blood tests revealed the aggravated ulcer condition.

Shofner, who has been troubled with ulcers throughout his career as a pro, reported to the Giants' camp underweight at 170 pounds. He missed the Giants' opener with a pulled hamstring muscle and hurt his left thumb against Cleveland two weeks ago.

Frick's Expansion Dream To Receive a Full Airing

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick's long dream, expansion of both the National and American leagues into 12-team circuits, will get a full airing here in a three-day summit meeting of club owners and general managers starting today.

The expansion theme is high on the agenda, along with a number of other important items such as the proposed switch of the Milwaukee franchise to Atlanta, presentation of a weekly television baseball spectacular for the 1965 season, completion of a new concept in minor league operations, a broadening promotional effort and a change in the present bonus rule.

Another important piece of business likely to be discussed, although not on the agenda, is the commissionership itself.

Frick already has notified owners he will not seek reelection when his current seven-year term expires next September.

A preliminary committee headed by the two league presidents, Joe Cronin of the American League and Warren Giles of the National, has been screening candidates to succeed the 70-year-old Frick.

Whatever possible notion may be taken here, it is hardly likely anything will be made public until the annual winter league meetings at Houston at the end of this month.

It was learned, however, that Frick will attempt to convince the owners of the necessity of expansion in the near future, possibly by 1966.

The commissioner has preached such a plan for some time but the recent action taken by the Braves and agitation by several other clubs to shift their franchises have caused him to move his target date closer.

It is Frick's plan to create new major league teams in Seattle, Oakland, Dallas-Fort Worth and either Atlanta or Milwaukee, depending upon where the Braves eventually wind up.

The commissioner is certain to meet with serious opposition, especially from Cronin and Giles, who do not feel the time is right.

The promotional endeavor was discussed at length at a general managers' meeting in Pennsylvania last week.

The general managers, it has been learned, brought back some bad news to the owners, to the effect that the proposed Monday night TV spectacular idea has hit a snag.

Two major networks, NBC and ABC, reportedly advised they could not relinquish the programming time Monday or any other night. CBS already had announced that despite its new involvement in baseball with ownership of the Yankees, it was not interested.

May Operate Giants With Two Holdovers From Dark Regime

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Manager Herman Franks will operate the San Francisco Giants in 1965 with a board of strategy consisting of two hold-over coaches from the Alvin Dark regime, plus newcomer Charley Fox.

The baseball club announced Wednesday that pitching coach Larry Jansen and veteran major leaguer Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto have been signed again. Whitey Lockman was not retained.

Fox, 43, has spent 23 years in the Giants organization as a player and minor league manager. Last season he piloted Tacoma, Wash., which finished fifth in the Pacific Coast League's Western Division.

Speculation On Points

New Political Future Opens For Kennedy After Election

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy stands on the threshold of a new political future today, a potentially vast horizon opened to him by his election to the U.S. Senate.

Inevitably, speculation will rise on three points—

1. How far will Kennedy go? Depending on circumstances, he could be in the presidential picture by 1968, and certainly by 1972. He will be approaching his 47th birthday on the latter date. He has a powerful base from which to shape his future. Having been in and around the federal government for more than 10 years, he knows big-league politics.

2. What about a "Kennedy dynasty?"

His younger brother, Edward M. Kennedy — immobilized in a Boston hospital with a broken back—was re-elected to the Senate from Massachusetts Tuesday. They can be a formidable team.

3. Will there be more so-called "carpetbaggers" now, men who go outside their home state to run for office?

Herbert Brownell, campaign director for the defeated Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, said before Tuesday's election: "If Kennedy wins, I think special-interest groups everywhere will simply turn to some popular figure and ask him to run in their states. I think this would be dangerous. It's the same as the court-packing plan." (a reference to President Franklin D. Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the Supreme Court.)

Robert Kennedy is the third member of his family to be elected a senator. John F. Kennedy was the first; Edward the second.

Mrs. Jas. Klein Elected Head Of Flat Creek Club

Mrs. James Klein was elected president of Flat Creek Extension Club at the Oct. 27 meeting at Community House.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Isaac Snow, vice president; Mrs. Louis Seifert, secretary; Mrs. Ralph McCowan, treasurer; Mrs. Amy Wadleigh, reporter.

Home management program was given by Mrs. Felix Ash and Mrs. Wadleigh.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Walter Groth. The group sang "I Would Be True."

Plans were made to tour Unity Farm, Lee's Summit, Nov. 12. Arrangements will be made by Mrs. R. C. Wissman. The club will observe Family Night Nov. 14 at Community House.

A report on international relations and the People to People program was given by Mrs. Louis Seifert.

A card was sent to Mrs. Louis Wilken, retiring president, who was ill.

Mrs. Conrad Heer was a guest. Nineteen members and 13 children attended.

A creative art program about Christmas decorations will be given at the November meeting at Community House. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. J. Wissman, Mrs. Wilken, Mrs. Louis Seifert and Mrs. Wadleigh.

Of the three, Bobby's victory is the most dramatic. He coolly took the long gamble of going outside his native Massachusetts to seek the seat from New York. In challenging Keating, he was opposing a well-known and respected senator.

It was Robert Kennedy's first campaign for elective office.

Apart from winning the long gamble, the victory was particularly sweet. Go back a few months—

Last July 30, President Johnson suddenly dealt Kennedy out of the race for the vice presidency.

The Kennedys were stunned.

They had in hand a sheaf of reports on polls that showed Bobby well ahead of all other potential vice presidential candidates as the choice of various groups of democrats.

Kennedy wanted to remain in public life. What to do?

He probably could have had a high appointive office in the new Johnson administration.

But a top advisor, considering this, said significantly: "In an appointive position, he wouldn't be his own fellow. If he can win in New York, he will be his own fellow."

So the decision was taken.

From the outset, the Kennedy team recognized that the "carpetbagger" accusation would be one of his greatest obstacles, and it was.

He met it head-on, in much the same manner that John F. Kennedy had talked freely about the religious issue of his Catholicism before he won the presidential nomination in 1960.

From the first, the crowds were massive. Kennedy was encouraged — but hard-headed. He never expected all this emotional reaction to go into the ballot box.

Apparently, he under-estimated. Only a few days ago, one of his chief lieutenants calculated that Kennedy might win by a 52-to-54 per cent. His percentage was 54.3.

After Keating conceded, Kennedy came downstairs to the ball room.

His expression was serious. He seemed subdued as he named various persons, and thanked them. Then he made a short, sober statement. "We have a mandate to continue what we started four years ago," he said.

He closed by quoting a line of poetry: "Come, my friend. It's not too late to build a better world."

Area Men Elected By Missouri Doctors

C. Gordon Stauffacher, M. D., Sedalia, was re-elected delegate to the American Academy of General Practice, at the Missouri association's 16th annual scientific assembly in St. Louis Oct. 31. Paul A. Roberts, M. D., Sweet Springs, was elected to a three year term on the board of directors for Missouri. They and other officers were installed that evening at a banquet.

Mrs. Robert Knight and Mrs. Eddie Schroeder conducted the contest and games. A written quiz game was won by Walter Olson and Steve Allee. Younger children drew pictures of

International Program Given Prairie Group

Mrs. John Augur and Mrs. W. E. Rife gave home management lesson.

A collection was taken for Butterfield Boy's Ranch, near Marshall. It was noted the group has contributed $54 this year to the ranch.

Roll call was answered by 20 members with household hints. Nine children were also present.

Mrs. Buddy Kinder, president, led the meeting. The group sang "The Missouri Hymn." Mrs. Joe Bill Reid gave devotional.

Creative arts will be discussed at the Nov. 25 meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Gregory.

Hong Kong Boasts Unique Problem of Money Surplus

By JIM BECKER

HONG KONG (AP)—This is a town that can't stop making money.

Every year it's the same story. When the books are balanced, there's always money left over.

They try to spend it. Every budget is bigger. There are expensive projects to try to solve the water shortage, and thousands of apartments to try to solve the housing shortage.

But more money always comes in than goes out, and at the end of the year there's that surplus again.

It's an interesting problem. No other city seems to have it. But then there is no other place like Hong Kong.

First of all, it shouldn't even be here.

The British got the island with a bit of gunboat diplomacy — the standard practice in those days — about 120 years ago. Since then, a little bit of the China mainland has been added.

The government of China, of course, is Communist and its chiefs are the terrible-tempered Mr. Bang and Mr. Coffee.

Nerves of international politics. It's a wonder they haven't taken the place back long since. Instead, they've become the largest investors in Hong Kong, pushing the British back to second place.

"I'll have my money back in 11 years," said one British investor, "the Chinese Communists willing."

And if they aren't? "Then I'm wiped out."

But people are pouring money into huge, substantial office buildings, factories, warehouses, homes, hotels, stores.

Already crammed to the bursting point with Chinese fleeing the harsh and humorless regime at home, Hong Kong decided to go into business on its own, mostly textiles.

Then the tourists discovered the free port, where products from everywhere were on sale at prices cheaper than in the places where they were made. When jet planes came, Hong Kong was the first city in the area to build runways for them.

Now tourists swarm in at a rate of half a million a year.

Memory Unlocks The Door To a Leisurely Yesterday

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the golden key.

It unlocks the door to the past and enables you to step from a harried today back to a more leisurely yesterday. It gives life a growing spaciousness.

You've got a lot to look back upon if you can remember when:

The greatest traffic hazard was a runaway horse, or a couple of young bloods racing rented buggies late on a Saturday night.

A daredevil was a fellow who was willing to go up in a balloon.

You could always tell a sport. He wore pointed, bright tan shoes — and they always were polished.

The racy conversation in the town barbershop immediately turned to a discussion of the weather when the leading banker entered for a haircut.

You could win a reputation as a wit by saying things like, "Everybody makes mistakes — that's why they put erasers on pencils."

Active Art, Sorosis Meet Topic Monday

Miss Gwendolyn Tuck, art instructor at Smith-Cotton High School, was the speaker at Sorosis Monday afternoon at Heard Memorial Club House, taking for her subject: "Active Art," in which she told of the busy lives of her students at work, in the classroom and out-of-it, especially when special events or seasons were coming up.

Art, she said, is perhaps 50,000 years old but much of the ancient art cannot be found. She said that in teaching art she explains line and design and their relation to each other. She teaches them how and their success comes later, she said.

Miss Tuck teaches freshmen through seniors and it is not a required subject, but she has 175 students and to the eighth grade she teaches crafts and art.

In the beginning she shows them seven lines and has them practice on these seven lines as teachers of music have their pupils practice the scale. Then from those seven lines, she said, any picture can be made and she has them draw and paint from real life or still life, not from another picture.

In the eighth grade they first start with making borders from the lines and then leaves, flowers and stems. This leads up to seven lines in good design. Then comes the color contrasts. They make their own designs, and she had on display some of the designs and repeat designs.

On display, too, were the eighth grade handicraft with a jewel box made with chip carving from a chalk box, ceramic tile coasters, trays, salt and pepper shakers. Another thing they did was stitching on burlap.

The Art 1 class has freshmen, and also sophomores, juniors and seniors because some do not get to take art during the first years. There are seven values of colors, that go from high light to low dark and she had charts showing these, and the light and dark contrasts.

Next came the design, and then the underwater pictures which had many of the deep sea fish. They go on from that to sketching outside in crayons, paints and pen and ink, and later inside when the weather gets bad they have still life, as well as self portraits and sketching of members of their families.

She had on display much of the art work including posters and program covers, done in oil, water colors, crayon, silk screen done by over lapping colors, and various other things, and students have an opportu-ity of winning a letter in art which has a requirement of 100 points. In addition to the points earned in the class room they may earn more with outside work. There is one contest at Warrensburg in which some of her students have participated where seniors have a chance for an art fellowship.

Miss Tuck then showed slides of students at work in the classroom, of the walking floats made out of big soap boxes and papier-mache heads which they made from stuffing plastic bags with newspaper, and molding.

She had pictures of Christmas floats, floats for football games and various other things including the scenery for the variety shows of the past few years. One was of a castle that was 18 feet tall was made in two sections, each nine feet tall. They didn't know whether they would fit when they put them together or not, but they did. For the castle, she said, they painted it with a sponge and dirty water. She had figures which they used for the Disneyland production a few years ago, made of Masonite and four or five feet tall. These they still have in storage.

The scenery is painted with tempera paint and showing pictures of another back-drop she said: "This one didn't meet."

Among the many slides of scenery for variety shows she had some of the Centennial which brought the history of Sedalia from the beginning up to the time of Whiteman Air Base at that time.

She had the background scenery pictures for the annual presentation of "The Messiah" and other Christmas decorations which were painted on windows, some scenes, some stained glass windows, and effective art work in which foil paper was also used.

Her concluding slides were of pictures she had taken of autumn and winter scenes which were very beautiful. It has been said, Miss Tuck told the group, "Art is art because it is not nature."

Miss Tuck was introduced by Mrs. Jack Cunningham, civics chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Joseph Maunders, president.

In the absence of Mrs. Herb-

Starvation Takes High Peru Toll

LIMA, Peru (AP) — His name is Victor, and he's 7 months old. Four weeks ago, he seemed to be dying of starvation in a sprawling Lima slum, his parents too poor to feed him properly.

Victor's father is 22, a frail odd-jobs man usually out of work. His mother is 36. Both are illiterate. Victor is her 12th child — eight by a previous common-law husband and four by Victor's father. She is expecting her 13th.

They live in the squalor of a cramped mat hut like thousands of others that dot the barren hills. There is no floor, no water, no toilet, and practically no food.

Hollow-eyed and spindle-legged, Victor was brought to the British-American Hospital Research Department, where he was nursed back to health.

Now two pounds heavier, he is a happy, almost normal baby.

An unusual case — a baby starving to death in Peru?

Not at all. Statistics show 100 babies die every 24 hours of starvation in this South American country. Victor was one of the lucky ones.

Babies who survive starvation diets grow up mental and physical runts.

Most of the babies born in Peru grow up without tasting cow's milk.

A quart of milk costs less than 14 cents here, but the masses who make up the bulk of Peru's 11 million inhabitants cannot afford it.

Babies like Victor, from the slums, are treated and studied. Because of limited facilities only a scant handful of the worst cases are admitted to the hospital.

Dr. George G. Graham, a Johns Hopkins-trained pediatrician and the director of the Research Department, said:

"A solution is a food costing practically nothing that needy families can feed their babies in place of the milk they cannot provide. Once a child is of school age the problem of nutrition is not so critical."

"One of the semisolid foods we give babies here is extremely fine noodles enriched with fish flour. There are others, but because Peru is one of the world's biggest producers of fish meal we are especially interested in this one."

President Fernando Belaunde Terry has ordered his ministers of agriculture and public health to explore the possibilities.

Miss Tibbitts Chosen To Take Master Lessons

Miss Barbara Tibbitts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Tibbitts, 1206 Sue Lane, has been selected to participate in the Lotte Lehman master classes to be held Nov. 9, 11 and 12, sponsored by the University of Missouri at Kansas City division for continuing Education and the conservatory of music.

Only 15 singers will receive individual attention from Miss Lehman each night. They were selected Oct. 20 by auditions, open to anyone, before a panel of voice instructors on the UMKC faculty. Miss Lehman, one of the most celebrated sopranos of all time, has recently given master classes at Northwestern University, Wignmore Hall in London and McGill University in Montreal.

Miss Tibbitts recently returned from the fall tour of the UMKC Heritage Singers which gave eight concerts in Southern Missouri. The group is made up of picked voices from the University Choir. She was also chosen for the University Madrigal Singers, a group of 13 voices which concentrates on renaissance and baroque music.

Miss Tibbitts is a student of Mrs. Martha Longmire at the university. She studied with Mrs. Florence Demand in Sedalia.

The greatest concentration of active volcanoes in the world is Indonesia, where 78 have erupted within historic time and 29 others are still giving off active gas. The best known is Merapi, the "Fire Mountain" of central Java, from which glowing avalanches and mudflows have taken thousands of lives.

Will They Work or Loaf?

Those echoes you are hearing are nothing more than election post-mortems. The reverberations should be tolerated for a spell if for no other reason than satisfying one's curiosity about causes and effects in the recent political drama.

So it was a landslide. Is that good? Certainly it is. The electorate definitely and positively put the responsibility for conduct of the nation's business into the hands of the Democrats. This is the way the leadership of the Democratic party wanted it—a mandate.

Now the question is, what are the Democrats going to do with that mandate? The caption on the cartoon to the right of this editorial suggests there is a "Job for Tomorrow." The pictorial intimation is that the people should pull together to close a broad election split. We don't believe it is as wide as portrayed but the point is well illustrated that an effort should be made to reduce the cleavage whatever its dimension.

Yet there is more in the "Job for Tomorrow" than having the people tug at the rescuing rope of unity. Admittedly, candidates elected to public office Tuesday are entitled to a moment of irrepressible optimism in the belief that they have found everything good in what their constituents have done for them.

However, after the first flush of victory has diminished, these men ought to have communion with themselves concerning the responsibilities required in the conduct of the public's business after they take the oath of office.

This mandate of the people is not one which invites a prospective officeholder to sit back on his hind-quarters for two, four or six years, assuming that his sanctum is a rest room for tired politicians on the public payroll.

It seems conclusive that the voters by their actions at the polls in selecting particular candidates, not only presume but expect officeholders to give the taxpayers their money's worth in public service.

Shall we give it a try this next go around?

Job for Tomorrow

The World Today

A Wholly New President Emerges

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — A wholly new President Johnson — new to himself and everyone else, here and abroad — will have to develop now that he has been elected to the White House on his own for a full four years.

This is in handling foreign affairs, a field where his experience has been very limited until now. It's a reasonable guess he will try to perform here as he did on the American political scene so long.

It can be simply stated: try to get all you want but compromise if necessary to make some progress.

As vice president, he was never more than a shadow, a good-will ambassador, of President John F. Kennedy who ran foreign affairs with a strong hand of his own.

After he became President, and until now, Johnson made no overseas trips. For one thing, there was no vice president if anything happened to him.

For another, he apparently felt he had a fulltime job establishing himself at home and trying to get his programs through Congress. He did so well it was his success here that laid the base for his presidential campaign.

As President he had foreign problems to deal with, but from within the White House, and never as a first-hand participant in solving them on the scene, as might be done through conferences.

He'll still have to worry about his programs in Congress, but the Democrats are even stronger there as a result of the elections. There will now be a vice president, just in case, and the foreign field can't be pushed aside longer.

One of the first moves, probably, will be visiting foreign leaders, perhaps taking part in some kind of conference on the NATO alliance which is getting shakier, and perhaps summit talks with the Russians.

This will be the first time in this generation, at least, that the foreign leaders ever met any president like Johnson, for whom success and approval by the public are a necessary part of his daily diet.

Since he has a great sense of the spectacular he can be expected to seek some sensational early triumph that he can point to. Over the long run he will probably try to do in foreign affairs what he did with Congress and politicians.

This means getting something done. In short, in each instance he will seek some measure of success, compromising where he has to instead of insisting upon having everything his own way.

After beating Sen. Barry Goldwater in Tuesday's election Johnson said he accepts his victory as a "mandate for unity." He was talking about trying to unify the divided forces at home.

It is hardly an accident he mentioned unity. For him it means trying to bring divergent forces together. It's the way he operates.

It will not be surprising if out of his visits abroad comes some progress in problems which have been standing still. He may accomplish far more than Kennedy.

While Johnson needs constant reassurance through approval — domestically he got all one man needs in the election returns — it is natural he will raise his sights and seek international approval with his conduct of foreign affairs.

He is an expert negotiator but he still has to demonstrate how tough he is in a fierce international crisis. He has never been in one, although he may have given an insight with his action in Southeast Asia.

After American ships were fired on in the Gulf of Tonkin he approved bombing North Vietnamese bases.

One of the fascinating spectacles of the decade will be watching Johnson — if he has to deal face to face with President Charles de Gaulle — try to get the obstinate Frenchman to change his mind on anything.

What's What

Aggravating People

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Aggravating — aren't they? Those who never identify themselves on the telephone because they have such distinctive voices anyone can recognize them.

Those who keep repeating, "I really must be going," instead of going.

Those who, even if you let them set the time, are sure to be a half hour late for any appointment.

Those who always have to let you know "later" — no matter what you ask them to do.

Those who are quick to borrow — but slow to return.

Those who assure you that you've made a big mistake, when it is obviously too late to do anything about it if you have. Those who are always offering you "if I were you" advice. Those who, in any group, insist on doing 90 per cent of the talking.

Those who dismiss your most dramatic or hair-raising anecdote with "that's nothing; just listen to what happened to me." Those who never let you finish a sentence if they can possibly interrupt.

Those who never remember that they've been introduced to you, several times.

Those who never forget and are fond of telling about the time you made the world's most embarrassing faux pas.

Those who hint mysteriously about knowing something that would really surprise you, but then say smugly that, of course, their lips are sealed.

Aggravating — aren't they?

Cleans Typewriter Keys

by Polly Cramer.

DEAR POLLY — My idea is very effective and probably will appeal to those housewives who also are typists. When you want to clean your typewriter keys in a hurry, roll a facial tissue instead of a sheet of paper in the typewriter. Strike each key two or three times (of course, without the ribbon). It is surprising to see the amount of carbon left on the tissue. —LOUISE

DEAR POLLY — If your dustpan doesn't get up that last bit of dust or dirt, use a postal card (a canceled one, of course) instead. Use a small paint brush to sweep. The results are amazing. —LILLIAN

DEAR POLLY — To catch a mythical, mystical dollar for my wife to buy another plant, I will tell you how she uses my old shaving brush. She dampens it to remove dust from house plants and says it is so gentle that no harm is done to the tenderness of foliage. —ALFRED

The Mature Parent

Is Money Sole Reward

BY Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My husband and I disagree about the way he lets our son, 11, spend money. The boy gets a generous allowance, but when he brings home a school paper with a good mark on it, my husband will hand him an extra $5. He recently gave him $10 for bringing up a report card mark from D to B. I think that the boy should save this money but my husband says, "What the hell, let him spend it. . ."

ANSWER: The problem is not how your child disposes of this extra money. It is that he gets it.

It is unfair to pay a child for every effort he makes. It's unfair because it trains him to expect money in return for every effort he makes. It makes the value of effort depend on its cash value. As a grown man, your son will often have to make efforts that cash does not reward. If a customer won't buy the merchandise he is selling, he'll have to sustain his failure to get cash from the customer — and look for another customer.

If we make money the only measure of his effort's value, any failure of effort to produce money can discourage him so that he stops trying.

In the Great Depression when market conditions denied people cash reward for their efforts, many of them jumped out of windows. As they had allowed money to become the sole measure of their work's value, they felt obliged to kill themselves as soon as money was withdrawn from them.

Sometimes we parents make the money-rewarding mistake with children because, as the saying goes, we came up "the hard way."

Sometimes we had to struggle so desperately hard for the cash we lavish on children that we make a proud point of forgetting our poverty — the hurts and humiliations it imposed on us. All we want to remember is that we finally succeeded in making the hurting world finally deliver us money. But our painful memories of those hurts and humiliations are not dead. Like some punishment, they lasted too long.

So we may really hate the money we finally forced the world to deliver. We may express our secret contempt for it by tossing $5 bills to children whenever they get a good mark — that promise of more triumph over the closed world, its hurts and humiliations.

Your son's efforts to please his father rate something better than money. They rate his attention and real appreciation.

It's the Law In Missouri

Question: Where a decree of divorce has been granted, may either party marry immediately after the decree of divorce?

Facts: John Smith and Mary Smith were husband and wife. Both were residents of the same county. John filed a petition for divorce against Mary in the Circuit Court of their county. Mary entered her appearance and waived the issuance and service of summons on her. At the trial of the case, John appeared with his witnesses but Mary did not appear in court. After the hearing the court granted a decree of divorce to John, on Feb. 1, 1962. John then married Jane Doe on Feb. 14, 1962. On Feb. 27, 1962, the judge was advised that Mary Smith did not know that John had been granted a Decree of Divorce. She had been told that John "had filed against her" but she did not have a lawyer and did not understand the proceedings. On March 1, 1962 the judge, after notice to John's attorney giving him an opportunity to be heard, set aside the Decree of Divorce and ordered the case be reheard before the court.

Answer: After a divorce it pays to wait! When a decree is entered, the judge who hears the case has thirty days' time within which to correct, modify or set aside the judgment for good cause, and may on his own initiative order a new trial of the case. The moral in this is, that divorced parties should never remarry in haste because under these circumstances John Smith and Jane Doe are not legally married and actually John might be charged with bigamy since he remarried without having obtained a legal divorce. In order to be sure a marriage after a divorce is legal, the parties to the divorce should be sure and wait until the thirty days have passed and then check and be sure that the judge who tried the case has not made any change in the decree.

SAN MATEO (Calif.) TIMES: Another Dimension. — Many educators have deplored the tendency to look upon college as a degree mill and a gateway to better jobs and salaries, rather than as an opportunity for intellectual development.

Now Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University, goes a step farther in delineating the purpose of a college education in its fullest sense.

Dr. Goheen told the incoming freshmen: "If any of you have come to Princeton hoping only to accumulate knowledge, I would advise you to begin immediate negotiations with some sort of institution where you can attach yourself to a pipeline of inanimate learning and become full, like a storage tank, sealed by a diploma, and otherwise useless."

In his plea that the pursuit of higher learning be "a moral quest as well as an intellectual one," Dr. Goheen cites the need not only for clear thinking but for "common standards of decency and citizenship" in a nation disrupted by tensions and violence.

His words command attention. . .

Moderates Want Better Race Relations

By DREW PEARSON

MCCOMB, MISS. — There is a lot of sentiment in Mississippi for better understanding with the Negro population, but it is scattered and sometimes has a hard time making itself heard.

It includes such voices as those of Mayor John D. Holland of Vicksburg, Mayor John J. Nasser of Natchez, and Mayor Allen Thompson of Jackson who though originally mobilizing a small mechanized army to cope with race problems has now steadfastly maintained that the law is the law and the Civil Rights Law must be observed.

There are also such moderate voices asking for better understanding as those of Editor Louis Cashman, Jr., of the Vicksburg Post, who recently published Rabbi Blyinder's review of the very critical book, "Mississippi, The Closed Society," by Prof. James W. Silver of the University of Mississippi.

Even in the heart of turbulent Southern Mississippi where most of the bombing has occurred, Paul Pittman of the Tylertown Times has vigorously editorialized against violence, while Oliver Emmerich, editor of the McComb Enterprise-Journal, has fought a valiant, uphill battle against bombing and for better race relations.

"It is no longer a matter of segregation, but a matter of the survival of our community," says Editor Emmerich.

In general, also, Mississippi newspapers have published critical reports by this column, which is more than some Northern newspapers can say regarding the exposure of certain local operations close to home.

Further, some police officers, such as Chief Murray Sills of Vicksburg and Chief George Guy of McComb, have been fighting uphill battles for law and order. Chief Guy, for instance, was not in favor of arresting Freedom Workers for cooking in their own headquarters without a health permit.

Muted Moderate Voices

However, the moderate forces in Mississippi are up against two problems:

1. The extreme racists, including the White Citizens Councils, and the Ku Klux Klan which has greatly increased in strength during the past two years.

2. The unwillingness of even moderate white leaders to sit down and talk better understanding with the leaders of COFO (The Council of Federated Organizations) or SNCC (The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee). These are the groups which mobilized students from all over the United States to carry on the "Summer Project" and are now endeavoring to register Negro voters and conduct Freedom schools.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Dizziness, Ringing Is Meniere's Disease Sign

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Q—I have Meniere's disease. Will it ever go away? Does living at a high altitude make it worse?

A—Meniere's disease usually occurs in persons in their 40's but it may occur earlier or later. It causes attacks of dizziness and ringing in the ears. A varying degree of deafness is also present.

In some victims the attacks are mild and clear up in time; in others they grow progressively worse. This variation is because the cause includes such unrelated disorders as an acute infection anywhere in the body, anemia, an over-active thyroid, multiple sclerosis, a head injury and various forms of poisoning. There is no evidence that altitude influences the attacks.

Many remedies have been tried. Where simpler measures fail an operation to destroy the nerve endings in the inner ear may be necessary for relief. Recently the ear specialists have been using ultrasound to accomplish this purpose. This has the advantage that the rays can be more accurately directed to the small area to be destroyed without damage to the surrounding tissues. As a result some hearing and a better sense of balance can often be preserved.

With either method there is some danger of damage to the facial nerve thus causing facial paralysis. This is usually temporary, however. Most victims of Meniere's disease consider it a small price to pay for relief from their dizziness.

Q—I have been using lindane as a bug killer in a dry vaporizer. Are these vapors harmful to a human being?

A—Like many of the new insecticides lindane is a powerful poison. It is readily absorbed through the skin and by breathing. Its poisonous effects appear within an hour. It may cause vomiting and muscular spasms. Read the directions on the package carefully and follow them scrupulously. Never transfer any of your supply to an unlabeled container. Be sure to keep the poison away from children and pets. If poisoning occurs call a doctor and tell him it is an emergency.

Where To Locate The Home Freezer

Where you put your food freezer makes a difference in operating cost, how well it operates, and how convenient it is for the homemaker.

The most logical place for a freezer is the kitchen, utility room, porch or basement. But are these always the best places?

A freezer should be located in a cool, dry, well ventilated area out of direct sunlight.

The home freezer should never be placed where the temperature falls below 40 degrees or in a room that is especially hot in the summer or heavily heated in winter.

Too hot a spot can add to the cost of operation. It is better if the freezer is not placed on an outside wall, especially one that gets a lot of sun.

The home equipment specialist warns against placing a freezer in a niche in the wall or in a place with cabinets on three sides. There must be ample space at the back, top and sides so air can circulate around the cabinet. Circulation permits heat given off by the condenser to escape.

A dry basement is a good location for a freezer. However, in a damp basement — even if there is no flooding, the dampness may harm the motor or cause the cabinet to sweat and the doors or lid to stick.

Some Good Advice About Eggs

Eggs supply high quality protein. Two eggs have almost as much protein as an average serving of meat. One large egg furnishes about 75 calories. Egg yolk is a rich source of iron, a mineral important in building red blood cells. Eggs also supply vitamin A and riboflavin. When properly stored and cooked, both shell eggs and dried eggs retain most of their nutrients well. Shell eggs keep in the refrigerator (pointed end down) without serious loss of nutritive value. Cooking losses in eggs are not high, probably because the cooking period is short and temperatures fairly low. The protein and vitamin A values are well retained. Riboflavin is well retained when eggs are cooked in the shell, but small losses may occur with other methods of cooking. Thiamine losses are small also, usually not more than 15 per cent.

How to Select Top Quality Eggs

Choose top quality eggs with clean whole, sound shells. The salmonella organism (which causes food poisoning in various degrees) is not found in sound, whole shell eggs. It has to be introduced by a carrier, or from unsanitary handling, through a cracked or broken shell. Eggs just happen to be an extra good medium for its growth (the egg white mainly), but only when planted there. In an atmosphere of warmth and moisture, the salmonella thrives. When present, this organism is not hard to destroy if thoroughly cooked. Any food that reaches a temperature of 146 degrees F. and held there for at least 5 minutes should be sufficiently cooked. (Of course, boiling would be much higher.) When an egg is cracked, it should be thoroughly cooked. It is not considered sufficiently cooked when an egg is added raw to a cream pie or custard-type filling, etc., and heated in a double boiler. The temperature of the filling is not hot enough if the organism is present. Also, meringues may not be sufficiently cooked. Best to use clean, unbroken high quality eggs for these recipes. The best precaution is to buy top quality Grade AA, A, and B eggs with sound shells, practice best methods of sanitation and preparation, and keep eggs cool, clean, and covered.

Freezing Pumpkin

Select full-colored, mature pumpkin with texture that is fine rather than coarse and stringy. Wash, cut into quarters or smaller pieces, and remove seeds. Cook pumpkin pieces until soft in boiling water, in steam, in a pressure cooker, or in the oven. Remove pulp from rind and mash or press through a sieve. To cool, place pan containing pumpkin in cold water. Stir pumpkin occasionally. Pack into containers, leaving ½ inch head space.

Facts About Egg Whites

Egg whites contain about 90 per cent water and about 10 per cent protein. The protein is responsible for the foam formation because it partially coagulates and forms a thin, rigid film around each air bubble.

When sugar is added, the beating time increases because it retards coagulation of the egg white. When heat is applied to the egg white foam, the bubbles expand and the film becomes firm. If the foam is undercooked, it may shrink or collapse because it has not been given time to become rigid.

Stages whites pass through when beaten:

Foamy Stage — Whites lose their clear, transparent appearance and become frothy and white. They are very runny and flow readily. Bubbles are large and transparent. Used for clarifying soups, coating croquettes, and glazing baked breads and rolls. At this stage the first sugar is added to the soft meringue.

Soft Peak Stage — Foam is much whiter and the films of egg protein become thinner and whiter. Foam will flow slowly when bowl is tipped. It is shiny and moist. When beater is drawn out of the foam the tips of the peaks fold over ever so slightly. Egg whites at this stage are used for foamy omelets, sponge cakes and souffles.

Stiff stage — Foam is white and stiffer and bubbles are very fine. The foam is still flossy, smooth, and moist. When the beater is removed the tips of the peaks stand up stiff. Foam will not move when bowl is tipped. Egg whites beaten to the stiff stage are used for meringues, candies, and cooked frosting.

Dry Stage — Foam is dry, white, and flakes off during beating. This dry stage sometimes results when egg whites are beaten without sugar. The foam is brittle and breaks. These whites will no longer blend with other ingredients and are not considered usable in food preparation.

How to prevent weeping: Be sure to use only 2 level tablespoons of sugar for each egg white. Beat sugar in as directed.

Sugar must be dissolved to prevent weeping. Spread meringue on pie from pastry rim in. Do not spread on hot filling but on warm. After baking, cool slowly, away from drafts.

How to increase volume: Be sure there is no egg yolk with whites. Egg whites at room temperature will give best volume. Use your oldest eggs as they whip up better. Too large a bowl for the number of whites results in poor volume. Don't let beaten meringue stand—have pie ready and oven heated so it can be baked immediately. If you wish, use more egg whites than are called for in the recipe, adding 2 tablespoons of sugar for each additional white.

SURPRISE LANDING—Only 63 miles northwest of South Viet Nam's capital of Saigon, helicopters carrying government troops swooped down on a reported position of 200 Communist-led Viet Cong guerrillas.
